WHY I WROTE THIS BOOK

I'm a person with a message to share just like you. The truth is I never planned on writing this book about YouTube Video Marketing. I thought for sure my first book would be about my life and how I overcame so many challenges living with my abusive grandmother and her perverted boyfriend. I thought it might even be about the challenges I endured when no one believed the "stories" I told about the abuse I endured living with them even though family members, people at church and the teachers saw the bruises on my body... I remember when I was in the 5th grade my grandmother visited my school and beat me with her shoe in front of the entire class while the teacher, Mrs. Lee, was in the classroom. My offense? Talking too much in class. All of that talking is what now makes me money on YouTube!

I thought my first book might be about never meeting my biological mother or how the father I met when I was 18 behind prison walls passed away after spending nearly 20 years of his life in prison. I thought my first book might even be about the father of my 3 children, my first failed marriage, how I went from a General Equivalency Diploma to earning a Master's (with an "A" average) before I was 30 or how I survived in a homeless shelter with my 9 month old daughter. Well, it's not about any of those! It's about my 4 year journey on the world's largest video website - YouTube!

I started my journey on YouTube in 2009 and in 4 years had over 1.4 million views, over 10,000 subscribers, multiple businesses and have made over $50,000 in sales online! That is the equivalent of speaking to a sold out concert crowd of 20,000 at the Madison Square Garden over 70 times. Imaging getting your message in front of 1.4 million people – for free! Where else can you get your message out and advertise to so many people for free? Anyone that is not using YouTube in their business is missing out on thousands and thousands of dollars and spending way too much on advertising that they could be getting for free.

This book started off as a special report that I was going to offer as an opt-in offer on my website. After writing more than 20 pages I realized that it could be more than a special report and contacted my friend, Kate Redwine. She has 2-#1 Amazon bestsellers and she gave me guidance that helped me turn the report into my very first book. She even turned her training into a free 14-Day Best Seller Kindle Course. So...my very first book is not about the life I endured, it is about a life I now enjoy. It is YouTube Secrets Revealed and I am so excited to share my story of how I used YouTube to make more than $50,000 in online sales so that you can use my mistakes to your advantage and get more views, subscribers, build traffic and learn how you can make money online.

Are you ready?

Let's go!

WHY YOU SHOULD READ THIS BOOK

There is an amazing opportunity out there for you to share your message with the world for free and you do not have to be dishonest to do it. You do not have to buy views or pay for subscribers. With a strategy you can get more views, add more subscribers, build traffic and make money online. I am a YouTuber and in this book I share with you my story from beginning to end.

Many people are searching for how to make money online using YouTube when you can make more money online leveraging YouTube and video marketing. Unless your channel is owned by an advertiser and makes partnership, it is very difficult to realize the hundreds of thousands or millions of dollars that some channels are making with YouTube. This doesn't mean that you can't make money on YouTube, it simply means that you can use YouTube to build a marketing funnel and grow your very own money tree with YouTube.

At the time when I wrote this book there were 48 books on Amazon specifically about YouTube video marketing and only 4 were written by women and was co-authored. Might sound a little discouraging if you think of the glass half empty instead of the glass half-full. I saw an amazing opportunity to share my journey, what I learned and show real results.

I wrote this book with the beginner in mind. Although there are strategies and tips included, it is not written in a tactical approach or the formal step-by-step approach many other books about YouTube offer. Instead, I chose a more conversational, illustrative and literal approach for the everyday individual that wants to start or grow their channel and produce results. I did make sure to highlight big tips and summarize chapters where I believe it was necessary for you to pay close attention and apply the strategies, tactics or tips.

There are action steps and an infographic included that you can print off to use at the end of the book. My goal is for you to see from start to finish how taking advantage of the mistakes I share in this book that you can use them to work for your channel and you, too, can begin producing results on your channel.

I reversed engineered my entire journey on YouTube and went through every year, what I learned and gave you specific ways to leverage the information to build your YouTube channel using YouTube. I specifically point out the mistakes that I made and how you can leverage them for your own YouTube success. I used specific illustrations from my YouTube channel so that you could see how my channel evolved and to better illustrate some of the points that I make in the book.

This book is for the person that:

- *Is interested in YouTube but does not know how to get started

UPDATE

Thank you so much for downloading this book! It's been an amazing journey since I first published it July 2013 and over 3000 copies have been downloaded. This was my first book and a giant leap of faith. I know it had a few editing challenges for which I profusely apologize. I was an amateur and thought that my eyes could catch them and I was wrong. Please forgive me.

I also received a comment from a well-meaning gentleman that told me “...your words of encouragement and inspiration are very good, however as a business person, you may turn off the business crowd. You need to separate business and inspiration.” If you are offended by a positive message and are looking for a business book there are dozens of other books about YouTube that you can download. This book is written from my point of view for the beginner that wants to learn video marketing, increase subscribers, views and grow a community on YouTube.

I don't teach theory – I teach results. Every tip that I give I do. In 6 months my YouTube channel has grown by 5,000 subscribers and over 500,000 views. I'm in the trenches just like you. YouTube has given me opportunities to grow multiple businesses and to use video marketing as part of my strategy to retire from my corporate career in before 40.

The screenshot shows the YouTube channel page for SPARKWISDOM. At the top, it displays '15,817 subscribers' and '2,011,198 views'. The channel banner features a yellow background with three images of the creator, a woman, and the text 'SPARKWISDOMTV' and 'www.FullTimeSuccess.com'. To the right of the banner, it says 'Video Marketing Coach Entrepreneur NaturalHair'. Below the banner, the channel name 'SPARKWISDOM' is displayed, followed by navigation tabs: 'Home', 'Videos', 'Discussion', and 'About'. The 'About' tab is selected. The channel description reads: 'Lots of FUN! Tea Talk with my daughters', fun with the love of my life, natural hair journey fun, natural hair product how to's and whatever else comes to mind. I teach part-time entrepreneurs how to achieve full-time success! A #naturalhair woman after God's heart... Living MY Life by design based on HIS Story. By the age of 27, I had already experienced domestic violence, financial abuse, divorce, bankruptcy, living in a homeless shelter and the birth of 3 children. I never met my birth mother and met my birth father in prison where he died after 20 years...I went from GED to Master's and living in a homeless shelter to building a home. Instead of adding new chapters I decided to update current chapters. You'll see UPDATE and the new content at the end of the chapters where I add fresh content. There have been many changes with the integration of Google+ and Google Keyword Tool going away and I want you to still know how to become a YouTube rockstar.

Lastly, I read every review. It is considered "taboo" for an "Indie Author" to comment so that is why I refrain from doing so. Although I refrained from doing so for six months I have decided that I will be responding to comments. I believe in being a copycat and copying the right cat. If Gary Vaynerchuk responds back then I'll take my chances and let "them" think what they want.

Thank you so much for your continued support! I believe that YouTube gives us an awesome opportunity to provide hope to the world through our messages. Please know that I am here for you and hope that you use YouTube as part of your marketing strategy.

Let's grow great together,

Montina "Sparkwisdom" Portis

CHAPTER 1: WHY I BEGAN MY YOUTUBE JOURNEY

In 2009 I began my YouTube Video Marketing journey. Little did I know four years later I would have nearly 10,000 subscribers and over 1.3 million views on my videos. I simply turned on my camera one day and wanted to share my message of hope with the world. My very first video is still available for view on YouTube and it is so embarrassing. The audio and video don't match, the time is embedded in the video and it was only 34 seconds long. I had no idea what I was doing I only wanted to share a message. Seemed like a “fail” video right?

I created an account and used the name SPARKWISDOM that represented the nonprofit that I founded “Single Parent Assistance Resources and Knowledge Network.” The mission of the nonprofit was to “Activate Confidence and Inspire Wisdom in the Single Parent Family” so it just made sense to me to take the acronym “Spark” and apply the word “Wisdom.” That simple connection was a fantastic idea even though I didn’t know it at the time and we’ll talk about it in greater depth later. My entire purpose for beginning my channel was to introduce people into my world and to share some of the challenges that I had encountered in my life and how I overcame them as a single parent.

Little did I know that one video would provide the gateway that I needed to create more videos to inspire, educate and share my message with the world. I continued making even more videos and thank God they were better than the first one. The second series of videos that I did were in my office that was donated to my nonprofit. I founded the nonprofit Single Parent Assistance Resources and Knowledge Network in 2009 and our mission was to “Activate Confidence and Inspire Wisdom in the Single Parent Family.”

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO SHARE

The thought of sharing with other single parents is what drove me to start my YouTube channel and create videos. What is driving you? Why do you want to share your message with the world? Is it for business or entertainment? Do you want to show people how to do something or do you want to have a way to upload and preserve memories for your family? Or do you have no clear drive and simply just want to share? Everyone has a different reason for why they want to share videos online. Even if you are not in business, you are still marketing something so why not use video to do it?

When I first began my video marketing journey on YouTube I didn't realize that by sharing my life story, and including my family in my videos along with just a small amount of business talk occasionally I was implementing a strategy that I now call the 80/20 rule with video marketing on YouTube. Keeping my channel diverse helped me to increase views, gain subscribers and build traffic to my site. Not only was I sharing business information through my nonprofit initially, I was sharing my life experiences with my amazing viewers and subscribers who could identify and relate to what I was saying. I was "keeping it real" and I didn't even know it.

Here is a list of statistics that would be good to remember from YouTube Press Statistics:

- * More than 1 billion unique users visit YouTube each month
- * Over 4 billion hours of video are watched each month on YouTube
- * 72 hours of video are uploaded to YouTube every minute
- * 70% of YouTube traffic comes from outside the US
- * YouTube is localized in 53 countries and across 61 languages
- * In 2011, YouTube had more than 1 trillion views or around 140 views for every person on Earth
- * Millions of subscriptions happen each day

If you have a message that you want to share with the world, YouTube is definitely the place that you want to share it. It is the 2nd largest website and in 2011, had over one TRILLION total views. That's over 140 views for every man woman and child on earth and YouTube is the largest video site in the world. According to a 2012 article on Nbcnews.com "America's 10 largest websites" 18.6 billion videos were viewed at this division of Google in January against a total of 40 billion nationwide for all websites. The average number of minutes per viewer for Google's video content, almost all of it on YouTube, was 448 minutes in January, compared to 57 minutes on Yahoo! and 22 minutes on Facebook.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Spend some time thinking about what you want to share and why.
- Share what drives you in your message and how you can share it to encourage and "drive" others
- Be clear about the footprint you want to leave on your channel.
- He who has the idea has the idea. He who executes on the idea makes their dreams come true.

CHAPTER 2: HOW TO CONNECT ENTERTAINMENT AND BUSINESS ON YOUTUBE

After uploading my very first video in 2009, I quickly developed a strong like for YouTube and found myself doing more and more videos. I found a connection between the viewers that were watching my videos commenting and just overall I enjoyed watching other videos too. Little did I know that that journey in 2009 to share would later introduce me to my husband, new businesses and so much more.

I began sharing everything from my life, my hopes and dreams and successes on YouTube. I even shared a child support story and when my father passed away I shared it first on YouTube. YouTube is an amazing sharing platform with some of the most amazing people on the planet who actually care. As I was making the videos I never really had a focus for traffic to a website, building an email list or any of the other fundamentals which come along in business.

That's why I decided to write this book. You can learn from all of the mistakes I made and find out how to optimize your videos, gain more views and subscribers on the 2nd largest search engine in the world and eventually maybe even make money. Even if you don't have a business using the strategies I outline will help you to optimize your titles and tags so that your videos can be found in search engines.

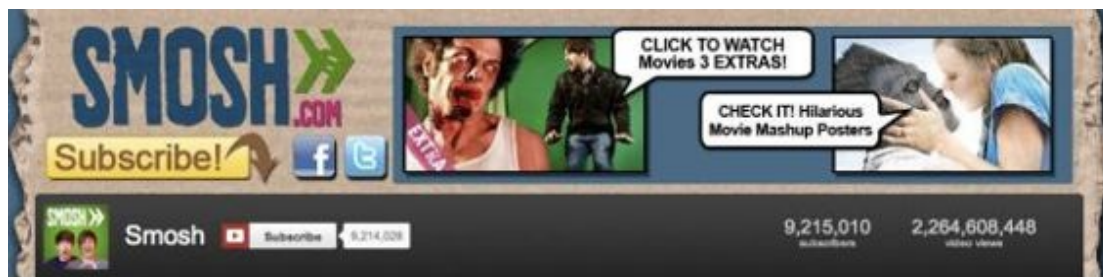

Most people don't understand that YouTube is really about having a balance in your videos between business, information and entertainment. Most of the people that are on YouTube are there to be entertained. They are not there to learn business and you can see that from top business videos versus fun videos that I have included examples in the book.

3 BASIC TYPES OF VIDEOS

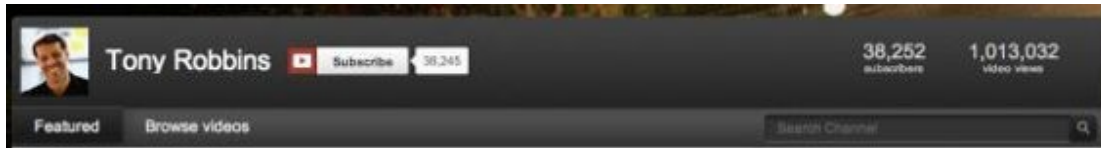

There are 3 basic types of videos that people upload to YouTube - videos that are informative, educational and those that entertain. Do you remember in elementary school when you were taught the basic modes of writing? They included creative writing, descriptive writing, expository writing, narrative writing and persuasive writing? Take what you learned in elementary school and apply it to your videos. You want to be sure to use your videos as a place where you are providing details, information and adding value to your viewers and subscribers.

One of the things that I realize now that I didn't know when I started YouTube is that many of the YouTuber's sharing videos tend to be entertaining. I wish I could say that I was on YouTube to entertain as well yet it would not be the truth. In fact I am a pretty serious person and although I like a great laugh or Madea comedy it's not often that I tend to watch anything outside of personal development or something I'm extremely interested in learning about. Now there are times when I have watched "Man versus Wild" with my son and I really like that show (yet that would still be considered informative entertainment.) Yes, most people would probably find me pretty boring unless they're interested in business, personal development or learning new things.

The SMOSH channel was created in November 2005 in as you can see from the views they have plenty of video views and subscribers and they rank number #1 on YouTube. People are watching videos on YouTube because they want to be entertained.

The Tony Robbins Live channel was created January 2010 so as you can see people are on YouTube to be entertained. You must understand that in order to have a successful channel when using YouTube to drive traffic to your business. At the date of this publication, the Tony Robbins Live channel is ranked number 9,683 in YouTube versus the SMOSH channel's #1 ranking on YouTube as of April 2013.

Another thing I want to point out with the SMOSH channel is that they are intentional with their banner. They have specific information on their banner asking for their viewers to subscribe, watch additional videos and they included their Facebook and Twitter icons as well as the information to visit their website. This is definitely a phenomenal example of a Call-to-Action banner.

At the time of this publication both channels were using a YouTube interface that involved an exclusive page. YouTube has since introduced the “One Channel” design that is amazing! The branding works across all devices, you can reach out to non-subscribed viewers, and you can show off more of your content. One of the features that I like the best is the featured trailer that plays when non-subscribed viewers land on your channel.

In order to maximize the channel design you will want to upload a banner that is 2560 x 1440. I recommend outsourcing the banner creation and you can easily find someone on Fiverr to do this. Simply do a search for “YouTube Channel Art” or “YouTube Banner” and select “Rating” and select a match from one of the top-rated sellers. Be sure to include information in the “About” section and custom links. Let people know who you are, what you do and where they can find you online. I included an example of my channel art below as an example.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Find balance between entertainment and education on your channel.
- There are three basic types of videos-informative, educational and entertaining.
- Be sure to update and optimize the about section of your YouTube channel art and include custom links.

CHAPTER 3: HOW TO CREATE A CHANNEL TRAILER

I have over 300 videos uploaded that vary from Natural Hair tutorials, Entrepreneurship, Motivational, Goal Setting, Family and Vegan Cuisine so my channel “purpose” might not be evident to a new subscriber. The channel trailer gives me an opportunity to speak to potential subscribers directly and explain my vision of inspiring, educating and sharing with them. This also is a great way to introduce yourself to your subscribers and it gives them an opportunity to learn about you in just a few minutes and how your channel would best benefit them.

I know that there are video marketing coaches and teachers that teach reading from a script, I strongly suggest that when you record your channel trailer that you speak directly from your heart. It is okay to be a little bit nervous, just look directly into the camera and speak your message of hope and inspiration from your heart.

What to Expect from the Sparkwisdom Channel

March 18, 2013

View my Channel Trailer

Do not use this time to talk all about your business or direct sales company that you just joined. If you are on YouTube to spam others your channel will never grow. Remember to keep it under three minutes and rehearse your channel trailer a few times before you get in front of the camera without the script. Although I do not use a script when recording my videos, I do rehearse my videos and key points a few times before I press record on my camera. I just told on myself and revealed another secret. Yes, I do talk to myself! Here are a few guiding points that will help you as you create your channel trailer.

Create a video and explain who you are, what you share and why I should be subscribe to your channel.*

If you’ve already been on YouTube for a number of years consider editing a few or videos and explain your personal journey on YouTube.*

Talk about the types of videos that you’ve already created how often you post and what people can expect in terms of new content from your channel.*

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Speak from the heart when creating your channel trailer. Let people know who you are what you're sharing and why they should subscribe to your channel
- Remember to rehearse your channel trailer a few times before you start recording it and from the camera. Practice talking to yourself – it works!

CHAPTER 4: HOW TO OVERCOME DISCOURAGEMENT

There are many reasons why people become discouraged when sharing on YouTube and we're going to talk about a few of those. Many people become discouraged when sharing their business on YouTube and stop creating videos. YouTube is not the best place to just share business videos and to tell everyone how to get their life together. People are there because they want to have fun, be entertained and to get away from the conundrum of their current life.

As you are creating your videos, remember that people are online to be entertained. The best way to have balance when creating and sharing videos is to have an 80/20 rule. Entertain your viewers 80% of the time and 20% of the time to share your message. Now when I am talking entertainment I am not talking about creating a comedy act. I am simply saying that you can share your life. Video captures important moments and you should be using it! Share a recent adventure with your family or share the night your children went to prom. I shared the video I created for my daughters' prom night on YouTube and the comments were amazing!

Michelle B

I am so happy you shared this moment with us on youtube, your daughters are gorgeous and their dresses are so beautiful!!! I know you are proud of them they have grown into intelligent beautiful young ladies like their mom.....going to prom is the moment that happens right before you go off and venture into the world of possibilities and dreams waiting to be fulfilled

If you are in business think of intentional ways to share your life with your viewers and remember that people do business with people they know, like and trust. Even if you aren't in business remember that if you are creating videos you are using – video marketing. Don't believe me? Well you are marketing your greatest masterpiece and that is you!

Through your channel you can share your message of hope, inspire others or simply use it for fun for the rest of your life. Most people believe that I came up with this amazing channel name “SPARKWISDOM” so that I could provide wisdom to others. Well, as you learned in the beginning I did it only because it represented my nonprofit.

Take time to celebrate milestones and accomplishments! When you reach your first 100 subscribers you may want to host a giveaway. You can give away a product, a report, a book or anything you like because it is your YouTube channel. When I reached the 10,000th subscriber milestone I did a special video for all my subscribers and it was one of the best videos ever. I had an opportunity to tell the subscribers how much they meant to me and they reciprocated the sentiment back to me. It was one of the most emotional videos I have ever posted on my channel.

10,000 Subscribers - THANK YOU!

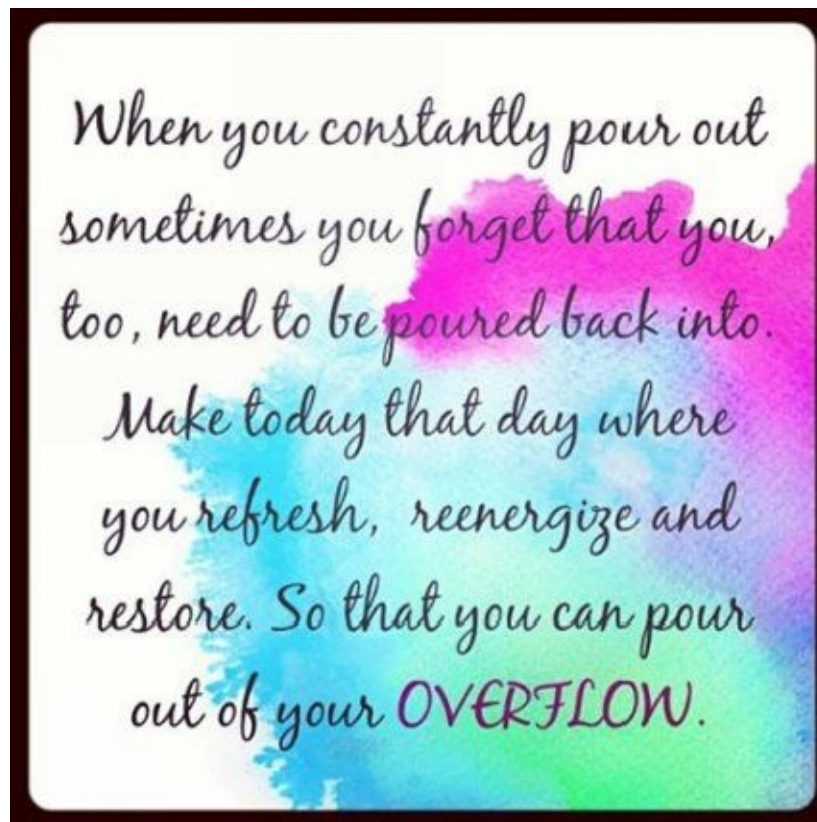

YouTube isn't like most social platforms where you can be anyone or anything you want to be by changing your name over and over again so you do want to make sure that your name reflects you. When I first created my channel I had only one chance to choose a name. I strongly suggest that you make sure it is something you can live with for a very long time. Consider that your channel may involve, but sure where that you may later be using it for business. The name you choose on YouTube may be what you get to be for the lifetime of your channel. So choose wisely! You can only change your name once, as I understand it.

If you would like to change your YouTube username here are the instructions: Please note: This option is not available for all accounts.

- * Log into your YouTube account and go to your account at <http://youtube.com/account>
- * Click on the “Edit on Google+ link” and it will take you to your Google Plus account
- * Select your name and a box will come up with your name
- * Select “More Options” and add a Nickname
- * Choose the Display Name you want to appear on YouTube (you must make a choice)
- * Save the changes

You will see a notification message from Google about changing your name and there is a limit to the number of times you can change your name on your profile and it will change all of the names on your Google services. It will take some time to see the change. Once complete, your nickname will show up on YouTube.

I receive so many messages from people that become discouraged when first starting out on YouTube. If you are one of the people that have sent me a message in the past and are now reading this, be encouraged! We all get discouraged from time to time yet you must do something every single day that fills your cup back up and helps you to refresh. Sometimes we spend so much time pouring out to other people that we forget that we need poured back into as well. I want to encourage you to make sure that you take time to refresh.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Remember the 80/20 rule when creating videos and seek to edutain viewers and subscribers.
- Share messages of hope and inspiration from your life when your channel in your videos.
- Take time to celebrate milestones and accomplishments with your viewers and subscribers.
- Choose your channel name wisely as it may involve over the years as you mature or start a business.
- Make sure that you take time to refresh and re-energize so that you

CHAPTER 5: HOW TO CHOOSE THE CHANNEL NAME

I know you may be wondering how to choose your channel name. I'm sure I could think of dozens of ways to help you choose your name yet I'm not going to. Your channel name needs to be as unique as you are. It needs to encompass everything about you and you need to put in some thought about it yet not too much. Don't overthink it to the point where you never create a channel at all. If you know that you have a channel name that does not represent you well and you have very little views or subscribers then consider changing it. You are not an oak tree. You are never stuck in a situation that you can't change. The only drawback is you must create a new channel if you don't have the option to change the channel name.

As you learned, my channel name was derived from an acronym that I took from my nonprofit Single Parent Assistance Resources & Knowledge Network (SPARK). The wisdom came from the mission "Activating Confidence and Inspiring Wisdom" in the Single Parent family. Pretty creative huh? The funniest part is I used to have a nickname when I worked for a telemarketing company in Alliance, OH and my nickname was "Sparky" so I guess the term spark has stayed with me over the years.

SHARING THE MESSAGE

After my first video I immediately felt a connection with the camera and was excited to create more videos. Creating videos felt like a natural way to share my message. I could express my thoughts through audio, visual and text as long as I left information in the description box (although at the time I was not knowledgeable about the description box or tags). This was simply an amazing opportunity to share my message with the world. If you can tell in the first video I was really nervous and I didn't know what to say. I must admit that there are still times when I turn on the camera to record and I am still a little bit nervous. Sometimes I wonder if my message will be clear or if it will be taken the right way.

There are times when I think - What will they say? Will this message inspire? Who is going to see this? In the past four years that I've been on YouTube I had many messages in my inbox from old friends and even people that I have dated in the past. Being online will bring people into your life from all different walks of life and it can become very interesting. Now with over 1.3 million views I can only imagine the number of people that have seen my videos online and it brings a wonderful smile to my face.

We all have a message that we can share with the world that can inspire others, encourage others and help people realize that they are never alone whether it's through the happy times, the sad times, birth or death - we all have something to share with this world. My messages have ranged from announcements about starting a new business, natural hair, moving to a new state, learning new things in my job, creating products, time with my kids, even one of my most popular videos "Help! My 13-year-old is having a Baby" and dozens of other topics. My channel has gone against the grain because I never stayed with just one message or in one niche.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Be creative when choosing your channel name
- Remember that you will grow, mature and times will change. Remember to choose your channel name wisely.
- Make your channel as unique as you are. Go against the grain and remember that people are there because of you.

CHAPTER 6: THROUGH THE YEARS (2009)

I posted my first video in May 2009 and within 1 year I created 50 more videos and by 2010 I was gaining more than 1000 views per video. I was so excited!

2009 Videos

Nearly 1 year later I was more comfortable in front of the camera and found myself really enjoying recording and uploading videos at least a few times a week. The video playlist above represents 1 full year from the first video that I made on YouTube and I want to encourage you as you are reading this book if this is your first video or your hundredth video to be consistent and go forward in your journey with video marketing on YouTube.

Within 1 year on YouTube I managed to share information about my nonprofit, my husband (who was then my boyfriend), my children, and business tips that I could share about financing business and natural hair. As I'm sure you can tell my channel was all over the place and there was no central focus except my life mission to inspire, educate and share. I felt like I was in my zone! Still I was making a huge mistake with each video and I didn't know it.

I was leaving money on the table (literally), I was not building a list and many times I had no call to action in my videos. I simply was just sharing information with no true intention or focus behind. I know that any Internet Marketer reading this is probably thinking "Are you crazy???"

I do believe that you should be intentional with your YouTube channel. YouTube is a phenomenal place to build a list that is your ideal client, market and still have a place where you can store your memories forever. When I started my channel I didn't know much about business and I can tell you I am still a student of learning and will be forever. Many of my business ideas came from comments, ideas and subscribers and videos I shared on YouTube.

My first forprofit company, Organic Life Products, began when I started making natural product tutorial and “how to” videos. I would receive hundreds of messages per week about my videos and the products and I spent time every single day answering every single question. The worst part is after I answered each question I would delete the question from my YouTube inbox instead of just simply creating a frequently asked questions document. Big mistake!

By the end of 2009 I had recorded and uploaded over 51 videos and shared over two hours of information and messages on YouTube. In a matter of seven months I went from zero videos to over 51 and never stopped to look back. I also went from being a divorced, single mom of three to having a fiancé. My videos ranged from a “Stuff Broke People Do Series” to “The Love Experience” and I begin sharing my family on video as well. YouTube quickly became my favorite Social Media platform to share my thoughts with others that I believed could add value to my life.

It felt like a safe place to share my thoughts with the world. I found a way to share some of my favorite recipes, tutorials and “how to” videos. I was on a natural high! Yet I was still making mistakes with my videos that I wasn't aware of and although I was getting more views and subscribers I certainly wasn't making any money online from my YouTube channel. I was just simply on YouTube to have fun.

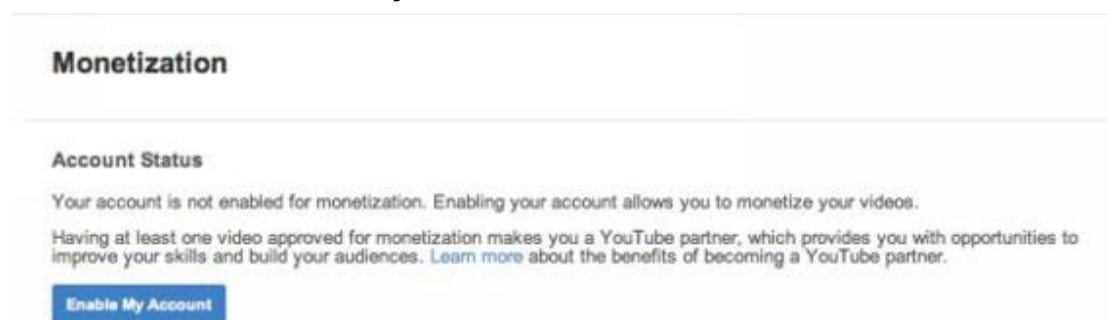

By the end of 2009 I had thousands of videos, comments and likes and I never asked for an email address and never paid much attention to the title, description or tags. I simply used YouTube as my "go to place" to communicate with my viewers and subscribers. I never took time to view the analytics report. Actually I'm not sure that I even knew existed. I simply just wanted to share a message with the world.

To find your analytics settings go to <https://www.youtube.com/analytics> and when prompted sign into your Google account and you will see an overview of the last 30 days for performance, engagement, top videos, demographics and discovery. If you have never checked your analytics you just may realize that you have estimated earnings for the first time. This happened to someone I know once and they had a nice monetary surprise waiting for them. If this happens be sure to leave me a comment on Facebook and let me know!

If you do not see the estimated earning box then go to your channel settings and enable it under Feature. While writing this book I was showing this feature to my daughter and she logged into her YouTube account and realized that she hadn't enabled the monetize option on any of the videos on her channel. You want to make sure you enable this feature.

How and when you decide to monetize your videos is entirely up to you. I do not monetize my videos as soon as I release them and many I never monetize at all. I am no longer after pennies as much as I am after capturing email addresses and building my community. There are times when I will go back after a few days and then I enable monetization. I do this because the first few hundred views that come to my videos are normally from those that are subscribed to me and typically they are not going to click an ad and leave the video. Some people teach to never monetize videos and send all of your traffic to your website and build your list while others teach to monetize them all. I don't know, all I know is the few hundred dollars I get per month makes me happy and the few hundred I get weekly to my email list make me happier. You have to make a decision to do what is best in the season of time you are in.

CHAPTER 7: HOW TO CREATE VIDEOS THAT PRODUCE FRONT PAGE GOOGLE & YOUTUBE RESULTS

What is your purpose? Do you simply want to be on YouTube just to have fun? Even if you are on YouTube just to have fun you still can learn from my mistake and use it to your advantage so that you can get more views and subscribers, build traffic and make money online. What fun is it to have amazing videos and content is sheer that no one can find? I never wanted to start a business, nor did I really have a real vision for where the channel would go.

This is how most people start out on YouTube – they simply want to share a message. Many people just turn on the camera and they simply want to share. This is excellent to do yet you should still start with a strategy and a plan to be intentional in your videos so that you can increase your views, engagement, add subscribers, build a list and drive traffic back to your website.

Unless you are creating YouTube videos that you intend to keep private forever, which I am certain that none of you are, pay close attention to the details included in this book. Since implementing them I have been successful at reaching the front page of Google with nearly every video that I upload and the front page of YouTube for the search criteria.

The videos below are just a few examples of front-page Google results. Now I do understand that Google has changed their algorithms and that results vary by region. I get that – yet a result is a result. Go after the first page and do everything you can to optimize your title and descriptions. According to YouTube, “The more words you include in your description, the higher your change of being discovered by searchers.” You can learn more about Google algorithms and how they rank relevant results higher in this article.

When you have a message of inspiration, motivation and encouragement that you want to share how great would it feel to create a video that could reach the front page of YouTube so people can find it? This book and the "Video Marketing for Beginners' Course" can help you learn exactly how to use keyword search so that you can get more views, subscribers and get your message out to the world! Get real results!

You can overcome a poverty mentality and learn how to shift your mindset and live a life of abundance, wealth ...

As you can see this video ranks on the front page for Google results and in the video results.

This is a short two-minute video I created with my son, Mansir. Out of about 23,000,000 search results our video shows up on the front page of Google Video Results!

“How to” videos are one of the most searched phrases on YouTube. I created a simple 3-minute video teaching people how to finish reading a book. This video ranks #1 out of over 200,000,000 search results.

This is one of my favorite videos with my son and we rank on the front page of Google for organic search and video as well.

The “natural deodorant” videos are both on the front page of Google Video Search results. Both videos will teach the viewer how to make natural deodorant yet they rank differently in the searches. Don’t be afraid to create more than one video about a topic.

Natural Hair is a competitive keyword and this video shows up on the front page of Google for “Natural Hair Help!” Be creative when creating your titles. They are the headline for your video. If you can upload a personalized thumbnail it is a good idea. If you are not Photoshop savvy, a simple site that I use is PicMonkey.

My coaching business teaches part-time entrepreneurs tips and strategies to create content, build traffic and how to convert their passions into a profit. What better place to be than on the front page of Google Video Search results for building a part-time business? When you are creating your videos it is very important to name your file the title of your video or include the keywords you researched.

Be sure to do some research before you create the video and include your keywords in your videos too. It has been said that YouTube's transcription service picks up on the keywords too. You want to do everything you can to optimize your videos so that you can increase views, gain subscribers and build traffic to your website for free using YouTube video marketing.

Get more views and traffic! Here is a free tool from YouTube that enables you to find the most popular keywords. <http://buff.ly/10ng1gY>

The YouTube video “How to Break and Overcome a Poverty Mindset” was created from an Instagram post. I took a picture of my bookshelves and added some information about how much my life had changed as a result of reading books. That post immediately began getting likes and comments and I knew that I could create a video from it telling my story. I placed the pictures from my Instagram post into my iMovie editor and recorded a voiceover and added royalty-free music in the background. I uploaded the video file directly on my Facebook page and uploaded a separate file to YouTube and shared the video file from YouTube on my blog. To date the post has over 264 likes, 45 shares and over a dozen comments. This strategy is a great way to share your videos on multiple platforms. You have a story so go tell it!

Probably, the best video I've seened on YOUTUBE as of today. Quality does matter.. I was just wondering, what books I would like to read this summer. My choice for book number 1 is, Achievement Matters, by Hugh Price... Thank you Spark for always giving quality info from a Christian perspective...

I saw this on IG earlier today and was overcome by your testimony. Thanks for sharing it in spoken word as well!

Be intentional online and create a plan. With a strategy you can get more views, subscribers and you can build traffic and make money online! Be sure to use keyword research with every video that you create. Stop using titles in your videos that no one can find! Recently I went to a channel and the title of the video was “Another haul...”

If you're doing videos about “hauls” then be more specific about your find. When I enter the keyword “haul” in YouTube's search function the first two videos include the young ladies below with hundreds of thousands of views. Be as specific as possible in your title.

Even if people don't come directly to your channel if you optimize your title you have a better chance of having your message found online through the Google and YouTube search functions. Why continue to create videos that don't get views and that no one can find online except you? Big tip: Never use the raw file that is created for your video when it is uploaded. Example: Video 0987.mp4

One of my favorite video series is “How to Make Natural Deodorant.” I have 4 videos that I created online that use this long tail keyword. One of the videos ranks on the front page of Google and two of them rank on the front page of Google's Video Search and YouTube search. Both titles are optimized with keywords:

[\[How to\] make Armpit Candy \(Natural Deodorant\) Using Coconut Oil, Corn Starch & Baking Soda](#)

[\[How to\] Make Homemade \(Natural\) Deodorant Using Coconut Oil, Corn Starch & Baking Soda](#)

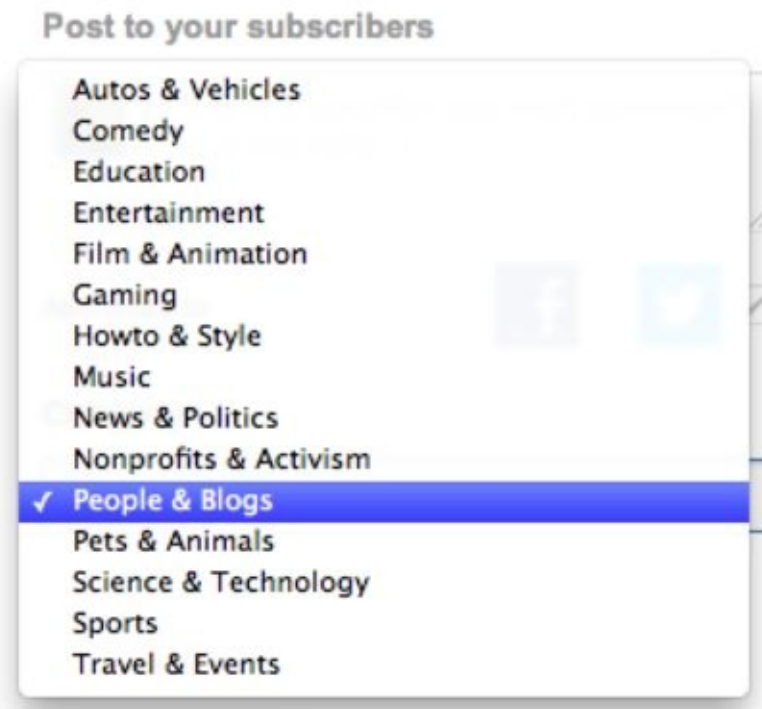

Let's review some of the titles that are currently on the 1st page of Google for this search “How to Make Natural Deodorant.” I highlighted all of the keywords in bold that are on Google:

- How to make natural, homemade deodorant
- How to make natural deodorant (2 results)
- How to make armpit candy natural deodorant using coconut oil...
- * How to make homemade natural deodorant (2 results)
- * How to make homemade natural deodorant using coconut oil...
- * How to make all natural deodorant
- * TWW recipe: all natural, homemade deodorant

For some of the titles there are multiple videos that show up in the Google video search results. That's why it is so important to have an optimized title and description with keywords included in your videos.

An important factor to consider before publishing your video to YouTube is what category to choose for your videos. Choosing the correct category for your video is important and this is one thing that most people overlook doing. In the beginning I never chose a category other than “People & Blogs.” Big mistake. Choose the correct category so that you can do everything you can to get your video to the front pages. The next time you watch a video check to see what category it is in and be sure that you go back to any older videos you have and select the correct category too.

Be sure that you review this chapter before you upload your next video. There are so many videos that I see uploaded that have titles that don't make sense and nothing about the video is even included in the description box about the video or the channel. If you do not take the time to optimize this information then you will not be able to get views, subscribers, build traffic or make money online because no one will be able to find your videos at all. You will just be using YouTube as a video diary and if that is your goal, you will definitely succeed.

Update

You can set the defaults in YouTube for future downloads. This is so much easier and you can always override the settings on individual videos. Take the template in the back of the book and add your social media credentials, relevant tags and additional information relevant to your video. Update your default settings at https://www.youtube.com/upload_defaults

- Create videos with a purpose.
- Use Google keyword search when creating headlines for your videos.

- Name your video file the title of your video and include keywords.
- Create videos from post used on other social media platforms that had a lot of engagement.
- When you find something that works keep going! Create a video series or show different ways to use of various product, service or message in different ways.
- Choose the correct category for your videos so that people can find them.

CHAPTER 8: HOW TO CREATE VIDEOS THAT EDUTAIN

Most people give up before they even get started with video marketing on YouTube. It can be a tough platform to get started on especially if you don't understand metadata or the importance of at least having a decent camera. We'll talk more about cameras in the book yet you do need to have at least a camera where your audio and video do match. It is so annoying to watch bad videos and most of the viewers on YouTube simply won't watch your videos or subscribe. YouTube subscribers are not very forgiving for bad videos and you can get a decent camera for under $50 or just use your smartphone or tablet. Take the time to create great videos and make sure your lighting is decent.

There are so many more videos on YouTube now that you must invest in a decent camera and make sure that your audio and video match. You may also want to invest in editing software as well. I use a program called iMovie or ScreenFlow on my MacBook. In the past I have used Windows Movie Maker and Camtasia. You can also use the free editing tool available on YouTube as well and simply trim the beginning and end of your videos so that they look polished.

Make sure that as you are sharing your message on YouTube that you are certain to integrate different parts of your life. There are times when I have shared conversations I've had with my children, recipes, cooking, and reviews about restaurants I've visited. Don't be afraid to share your life on YouTube. You will find that as you do your views and subscribers will and if you have a blog, website or business you will attract your ideal client.

If you want to get more views and subscribers you must learn how to create videos that "edutain" the people that watch your videos. One of my favorite subscribers, Naptural85, shared the birth of her first child, Olivia, on YouTube including her pregnancy along the way. She even began making daily vlogs including her husband, Filipe, Olivia and so much more of her life. It has been such a joy to watch her grow online and share her life with us. She now has three channels and I am subscribed to two of them. She does a great job teaching, educating and entertaining on all of her channels.

Remember that you want to share 80% of your life and the amazing things happening or sometimes the occasional rant. From time-to-time you can share things that are annoying to you and frustrating. Just remember that if you do it all the time you will attract the type of people that enjoy that type of company. It is true that misery attracts misery so be careful to create the type of videos for the type of people you want to attract.

In the video “{mini RANT} Say My Name Right!” I had my son, Mansir, share what happened in his third-grade classroom with a substitute teacher and how it made him feel. I recorded this video in the kitchen while my husband was fixing breakfast. It was a very simple video that it had an enormous impact on the lives of other people. More people than I realized could relate to this topic.

Because I was once a middle school teacher in an inner inner city school, I understand how important it is to pronounce a name correctly. Many of my students had names that were difficult to spell and pronounce yet I always made an extra effort to get the pronunciation of their names right. In Dale Carnegie's book "How to Win Friends and Influence People," he says that a person's name is to that person the sweetest and most important sound in any language.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Investment in a decent camera or simply use your iPhone and invest in a tripod and a tripod holder so that your videos are not shaky
- Don't be afraid to share your life online. People do business with people they know, like and trust.
- Video marketing help build your brand and credibility.
- Set a goal to create videos of that edutain.
- Share rants occasionally and be careful that you don't share something that may haunt you in future years. Remember that videos that you share online can also be downloaded by others and used against you. Exercise common sense.

CHAPTER 9: MARKETING AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

If you want to accelerate views, build traffic, gain subscribers and build your brand I would strongly suggest that you implement strategies that will assist your efforts. You can take advantage of certain Search Engine Optimization (SEO) strategies and pay someone to generate various types of inbound links to your videos that will help them rank higher in the search engines.

Effective ways to market your videos include backlinking, forum marketing, blog commenting, commenting on other YouTube videos, adding contacts and of course sharing your videos on Social Media. Adding contacts is an effective strategy that I used in 2013. YouTube will give you a limit of 5000 contacts yet you can still add more yet you simply will be unable to see the list. At the time of this publication, I had not implemented backlinking or forum marketing strategies in my video marketing. Add contacts at https://www.youtube.com/address_book

You can also share the videos on different Social Media platforms including Facebook, Twitter, Pinterest and many other platforms. Also remember to include your video on your website or blog. In 2009 Nate Elliott wrote a blog post entitled “The Easiest Way to a First Page Ranking on Google” and this included a study that indicated indexed video stands about a 50 times greater chance of ranking on the first page of results than any given textual page in the index.

I am sure that there may be blog posts that will refute this study. I don’t know, all I know is from my personal experience my videos have shown up consistently on the front page of Google, Google video search results and in YouTube search results. Since Google also owns YouTube I would suggest incorporating video in your website and including it as part of your social media marketing campaign.

Sprinkle in the pieces of business after you’ve really built up a community that supports what you do. Don’t worry constantly about views and subscribers the people will come if you continue to create great content. YouTube is one of the few places where the “build it and they will come strategy does work” with a plan of intention. You still must have quality content and at least do the basics to optimize your channel and videos.

UPDATE

You have to be sure that you are speaking to your audience. Find out what topics interest them and create videos that will attract them. Go to forums and find out what questions they have and do it through video. YouTube will give you a limit of 5000 contacts yet you can still add more yet you simply will be unable to see the list. Big tip: YouTube will only allow you to add 100 contacts per day. Manually add contacts at https://www.youtube.com/address_book and if you want to automate your YouTube Marketing you can use a site like TubeAssist. With TubeAssist you can drive targeted traffic to your channel and videos through campaigns. Using it you can add contacts, subscribe to channels and share videos. Now I do not “sub for sub” and I just don’t recommend it. There is a cost for this service and you can sign up for this service here.

COMMENTS

One of my favorite things to do is to connect with my viewers and subscribers through the comments. If a viewer takes the time to leave a comment I take the time to respond. I don't have the time to respond every single day to every comment yet I will take the time to respond when I can. This is important and it increases the likelihood that viewers will leave comments on your videos.

Big Tip: Turn off the private message function. This will encourage your viewers and subscribers to leave a comment or ask a question on the video and you can serve many more viewers this way.

A few of the simple things that I do include:

- *Asking questions
- *Thanking them for watching the video
- *Responding to a question or comment
- *Providing thoughtful input
- *Complimenting an avatar
- *Add the commenter as a contact
- *From time to time I visit my older videos and leave responses too.

Oh my goodness this is such a beginner video! Hello everyone and thank you so much for watching this video. I was just starting on YouTube in having so much fun that I would just make videos on anything! Thank you for watching and I hope you can use the tips. God bless you!

I know you might be thinking, “What are you going to do when you have 1000 comments?” Well, I suppose it will be more difficult yet I remember when I only had 2-3 comments on a video and now some videos have over 100! If you take the time now to respond you will build up your community and then if it becomes overwhelming you can create videos that answer the questions. I often use the voice prompt feature on my MacBook or Siri to respond.

Here are a few tips that you can use:

- *Pick one day a week and set a timer for 1 hour to respond to comments
- *Use a voice dictation to respond
- *Use keywords from your video title in the response
- *Respond to all the comments on a video at one time
- *If a video doesn't have comments, leave a thoughtful comment thanking viewers for watching

If you actively engage with your audience through your channel, it will pay off in the long run. According to the YouTube playbook “An engaged community of viewers often leads to a loyal following. Your fans will become your social army – empower them to you’re your brand and they will be your best promoters.” Big Tip: If your videos do not have comments, be the first to leave one. Add something from the video that you may have left out or realized after you recorded it. Remember YouTube is all about connecting.

Update

Since the first edition of this book there has been an integration between YouTube and Google+. The implementation was an absolute mess and there are hundreds of videos you can from unhappy YouTuber’s and viewers. The bottom line is it doesn’t matter what you or I think. It’s Google’s playground and if you want to win you better play. Your Google+ page is created automatically from your YouTube channel and now instead of notifications from your inbox they come from Google+.

You’ll have a bell in the upper right hand corner of your page and when you select it you will see all of your notifications. You can choose to respond via Google+ or YouTube. I typically go to the videos and respond using Google+. Now here is the great part about the integration – your video and comments are shared automatically on your Google+ page and you can now use hyperlinks in your comments.

Here is the challenging part to the integration – it is confusing, you are “forced” to have a Google+ account, you can not go back and respond to old YouTube comments and people may spam your page with links to their products, services and social media sites. I have a video where I discuss the changes further at Google+ Comments, What They Mean and What You NEED to know about Changes to YouTube Comments

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

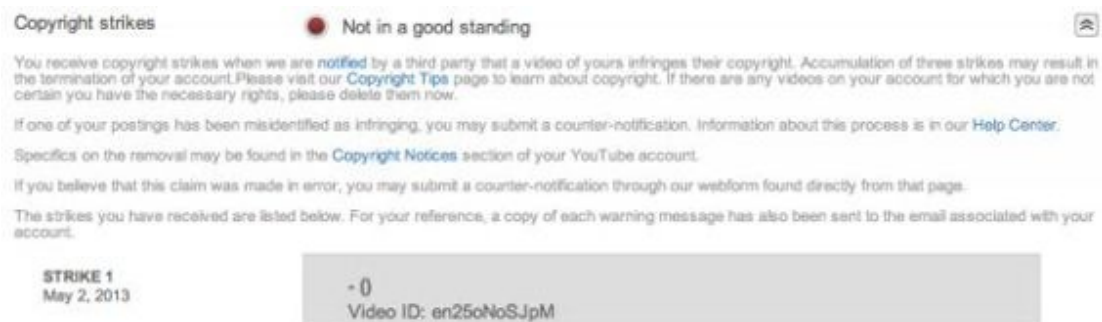

- Market and share your videos on various social media platforms and use different strategies to increase views.
- YouTube is one of the few places where the “build it and they will come” strategy does work.
- Engage and connect with your viewers and subscribers through the comments.
- Visit old videos and leave a comment at the top so that new viewers can see that you do comment back.

- If you have a video that does not have any comments, be the first to leave a comment on the video and simply answer questions that you may have left out.
- If you want to win play on the playground.

CHAPTER 10: HOW TO AVOID A COPYRIGHT STRIKE

Remember that all of your videos on YouTube will remain there forever. That is unless your account is deleted because of copyright infringement or infractions. We want to stay far away from infractions! Make sure that you only use royalty-free music and that you never use videos that belong to someone else's channel. I received my first copyright strike in May 2013.

I created a video that included part of my wedding video from my husband's YouTube channel as anniversary surprise. It was removed due to a copyright claim and I received a notice that my account was "not in a good standing." Because my account is not in good standing I am unable to unlist videos (making them viewable only by people that have the link to the video), include external annotations, have unlimited uploads or host live events for 6 months from the date of the copyright notice.

Although my husband and I emailed and faxed YouTube the copyright strike was not removed. I would encourage you to visit the Copyright Center on YouTube and make sure that you understand which types of work are subject to copyright and how to use the copyright protected work without infringement.

According to the Copyright Center on YouTube "In some circumstances, it is possible to use a copyright protected work without infringing the owner's copyright. For more about this, you may wish to learn about fair use. It is important to note that your video can still be affected by a claim of copyright infringement, even if you have...

Given credit to the copyright owner

Refrained from monetizing the infringing video

Noticed similar videos that appear on YouTube

Purchased the content on iTunes, a CD, or DVD

Recorded the content yourself from TV, a movie theater, or the radio

Stated that "no copyright infringement is intended" If a video was uploaded with your image by a friend or someone else without your permission and you feel it violates your privacy or safety, you may wish to file a privacy complaint.

I only use royalty-free music in my videos and you can find a few royalty-free tracks at Incompetech or by a Google search of “royalty free music.” Some of the videos and playlists that I created are located in the bonus video section in the appendix. I encourage you to look at the videos and to also view the videos online. If you have the “external annotation” feature enabled on your account, use it to direct traffic back to your website or opt-in offer.

As you are starting off on YouTube you may have made the same mistakes I did or you might be making the same mistake now. It's okay! YouTube is a fantastic place to go back and do some amazing updates to the titles, descriptions and tags that you'll learn later on in this book.

UPDATE

I beat the copyright infringement! It took nearly 6 months yet I won. My account is finally back in “good standing” and I can do all of the features you see below.

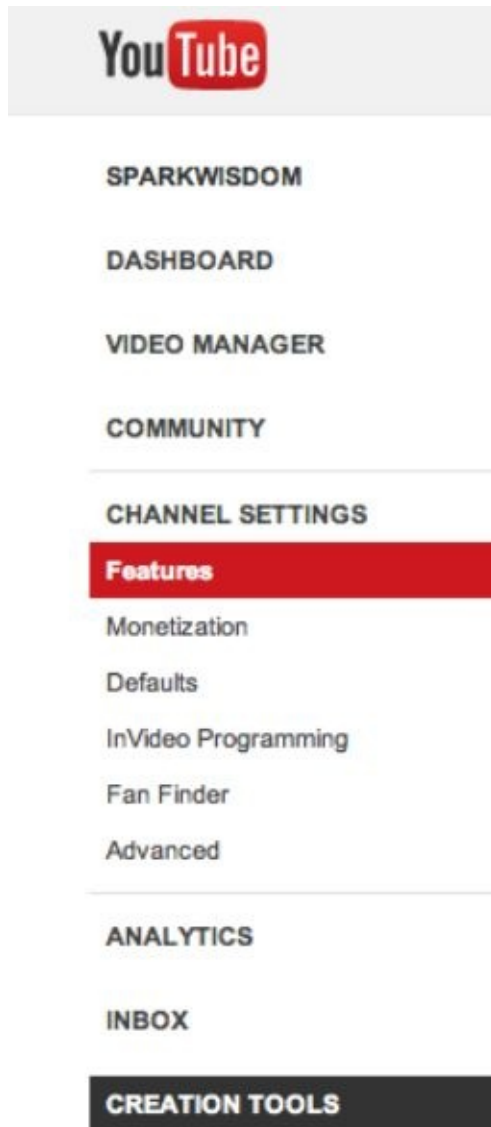

Account status
 SPARKWISDOM	Partner Verified
Community guidelines	 Good standing
Copyright strikes	 Good standing
Content ID claims	 Good standing
Feature	Status	Description
Monetization		View monetization settings
Longer videos		You can now upload videos longer than 15 minutes! Learn more
External annotations		Lets you link annotations to external sites or merch partners. Learn more
Custom thumbnails		Choose your video's thumbnail by uploading your own. Learn more
Paid Subscriptions	Enable	You are eligible for paid subscriptions. Learn more
Content ID appeals		Lets you appeal rejected Content ID disputes. Learn more
Unlisted and private videos		Lets you have unlisted and private videos. Learn more
Live events		You can stream live events. Learn more

The best part about “good standing” is the opportunity to include external annotations in your videos. This feature lets you link annotations to external sites or merch partners. I believe that if you follow the information I provide in this book you will be able to use this feature to your advantage and grow your email list outside of YouTube. You simply need to verify your domain and the external link will go directly to your page. I use it from time to time to direct my audience to a hidden page on my site that is an opt-in offer for my Video Marketing for Profits course. I can tell you that at this juncture in my business I am more concerned about building my list than enabling Google Adsense. I highly recommend that you take advantage of this feature and direct your subscribers to your list building page on your site. Learn exactly how to do it at <https://support.google.com/youtube/topic/2795929?hl=en>.

Another great way to reinforce branding is through InVideo

Programming. Using this feature you can add a custom watermark image and even feature one of your videos or playlists across all of your videos. Use everything that YouTube gives to you to your advantage to gain subscribers, build your community and increase your views. Enable InVideo Programming at https://www.youtube.com/account_featured_programming

Finally since the first publication YouTube has added Creation Tools that include an audio library and a video editor. This is fantastic because now you can download background music for your videos for free. The video editor is fantastic to use if you don't have an editing program such as iMovie, Window Movie Maker, Final Cut or Adobe After Effects. You can add text, audio and even combine videos and create a montage. Access the creation tools from your additional channel settings. Here is a quick link <https://www.youtube.com/features> and remember that the "Creation Tools" from the sidebar.

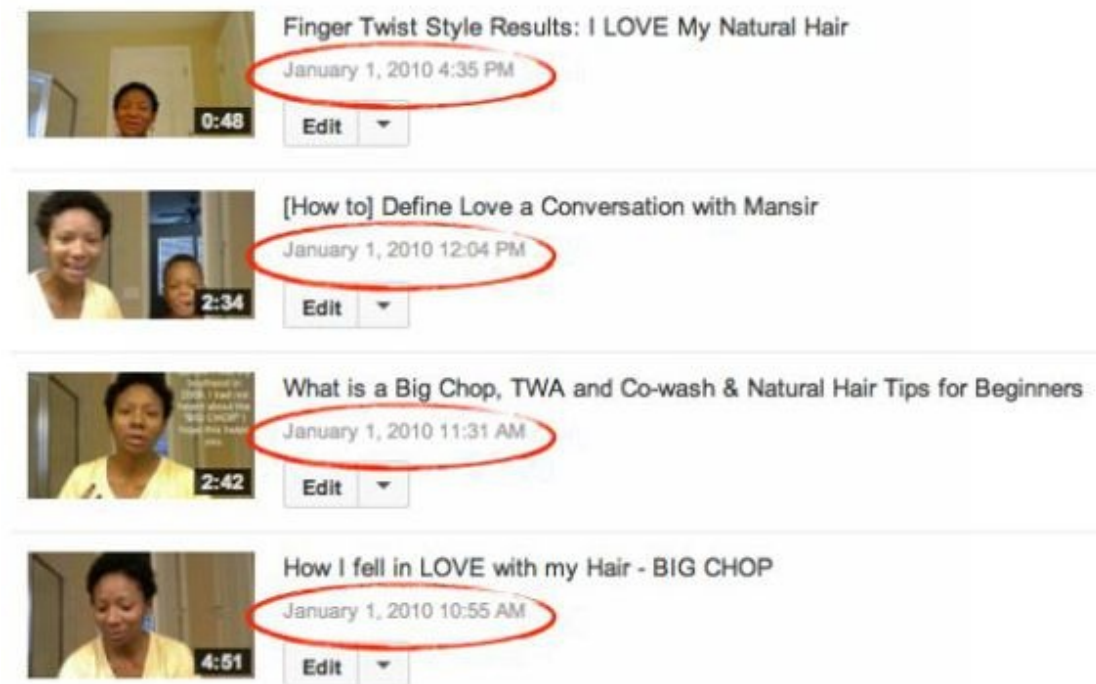

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Never use content that you do not own or have permission to use.
- Always use royalty-free music.
- Submit a privacy complaint if someone uploaded an image or video of you without your permission.
- Enable the external annotation and InVideo Programming features.

CHAPTER 11: THROUGH THE YEARS (2010)

On January 1, 2010, I recorded and uploaded four videos all on the same day.

Now, I would not encourage you to do that. Now that I have been on YouTube for a number of years' I would suggest using the “scheduling” option and uploading the videos at least one week apart. I was just so excited with my YouTube journey and I couldn't wait to share.

By 2010 I had over 132 videos and over 8 hours of video uploaded to YouTube. I had found my “sweet spot” on Social Media! I finally found a place where I could share and was building a community that was simply amazing. There were days when I couldn't wait to turn on my camera.

In the month of July I created a video every single day that shared my life experiences and my family.

30 days of videos in July 2010

I also started a business in 2010 because of a lot of the sharing that I did through YouTube. Organic Life Products was born. This was a company that I began at a Flea Market and within 20 days I made over $12,000! I was selling natural, organic products to pregnant women that were walking by smoking a cigarette and pregnant. It was crazy! I would then come home and share my experiences with my viewers and subscribers. I was creating my very own reality TV show and it felt amazing!

I started my first group on YouTube that was an accountability circle and a few ladies and I got together for a year and we shared all of our ideas and we held each other accountable. My videos ranged from everything about creating product “how to’s” and still sharing my message with the world. I was still making mistakes with my videos and I didn't know how to build traffic, create an opt-in offer, build a list or even how to use my comments for future eBooks or special reports.

YouTube is an absolute gold mine and I had been in the mine for years and hadn't realized it. The worst part is that I also had engagement yet I never took the information seriously and built any kind of list. If you are in business it is essential to be intentional with your videos and if you're not in business I still want to encourage you not to make the same mistakes that I made with my YouTube channel.

YouTube is one of the best platforms to use to introduce video marketing into your business. One of the best ways is to create how-to videos and to share your story with the world. My channel started with a simple idea in 2009 and a story that I wanted to share with the world about being a single parent. I continued to share what I was doing, when I was at the flea market building my business, when I was creating the products and essentially I built a story and created a business that began to thrive online.

I also started an amazing challenge on YouTube in 2010 that is known everywhere online as the 52-week financial challenge or 52-week money challenge. I created that challenge in 2010 after my husband and I were talking in the car he was telling me about an idea that he had about saving money. I took the idea into execution and the 52-week financial challenge was born!

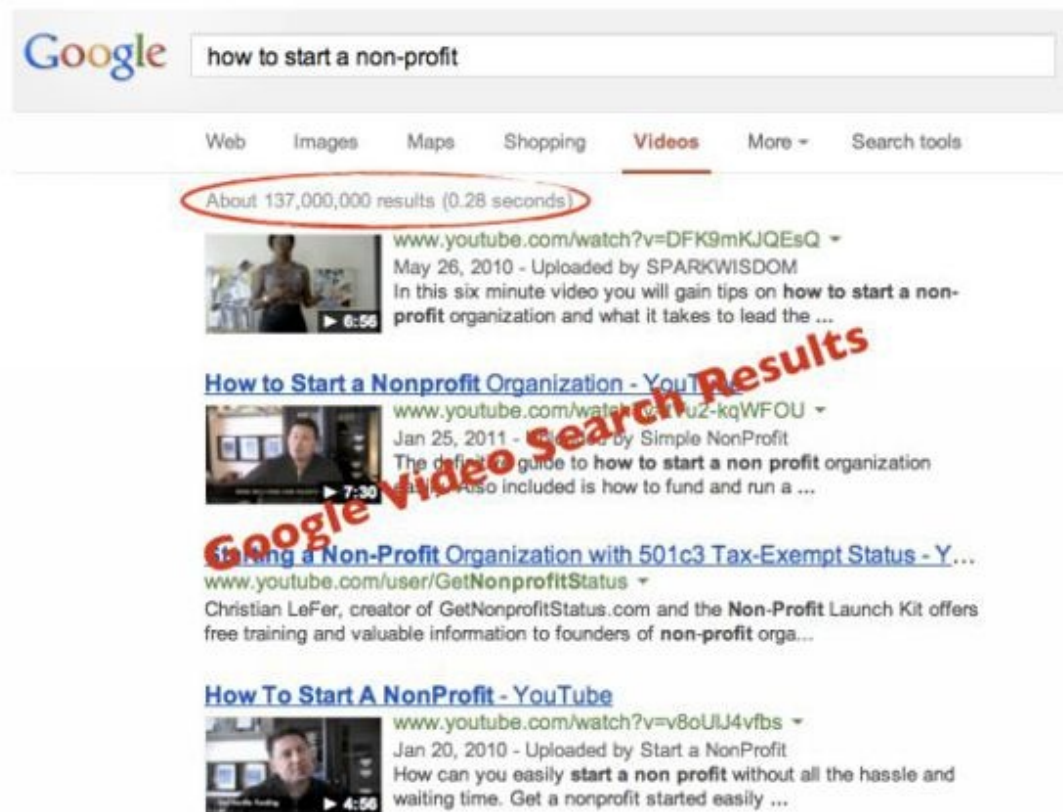

I had thousands of people that enrolled in one simple challenge to save money all because I asked one question. The 52-week financial challenge which now has hundreds of thousands of people that participate each year where each and every day where each week you say one dollar the first week $10 the second week $30 the third week by the end the year by the end of the year you have $1378 saved. I then took that idea and introduced the idea to my subscribers and over 3 years later hundreds of thousands of people joined the 52-week financial challenge! I will include a simple chart in the appendix so that you can join the challenge too.

By the end of 2010 I increased my subscribers to a few thousand and had a few hundred thousand views on videos. I also built a company and I shared my life online with many people. I was not regularly advertising my business and unbeknownst to me, I was just leaving my business to chance. There were times when I would mention the business and products in the videos yet I was never intentional about building a list or driving traffic back to my site.

One of my favorite videos in 2010 is “How to Start a Nonprofit Organization, Mission, Vision, Goals and Purpose” and it currently ranks #1 in the YouTube search engine results for the keyword “nonprofit” and #1 in the Google search engine results for the long tail keyword “how to start a nonprofit.”

This is important because if you are creating videos about that inspire, educate and share then you want your ideal client to be able to find them and find you. No matter how amazing your content is, it doesn't matter if no one can find your video or channel. Pay attention to the titles that capture your attention and make sure that you do your research before publishing your video for keyword optimization

When you find a niche within YouTube that works continue to go with it. People also like hands on videos. Make sure that in business you are integrating video marketing into your business as a strategy. Whether it's instructional or showing your client how to do something, people like the personal detail.

I would get hundreds of messages a week from people that wanted to buy my products or wanted some type of business or personal advice and simply did not create a way to follow-up with them at a later date. I spent countless hours responding to every personal message I would receive in my YouTube message box. Little did I know that I could have been answering the questions via video and helping others in the process.

I also participated in my first YouTube challenge where everything all day in the month of July I created a video is one of those videos was something new it was a great experience to really get me thinking of what to say what to do each day. The best thing about YouTube is your video and channel views will continue to grow as will your subscribers. By the end of 2010 I had 132 videos and over eight hours of content. I want to encourage you to get started now! By the end of 2010, I had more than doubled the videos, views and subscribers from what I started in 2009.

Update

Be sure to add channel keywords. These are keywords specific to your channel, topics and videos. You can update your channel keywords at https://www.youtube.com/advanced_settings. Don't skip this feature and currently I have 8 long tail keywords in my channel information. Separate them by a comma and once you save the update YouTube will add quotations.

Google Keyword Tool has been replaced by Keyword Planner the strategies to get to #1 will still work for you. Be sure to do your keyword research and a few options are below. I do use Ubersuggest and I also use a tool called FreshKey that is an application I downloaded directly to my Mac.

On older videos that gave advice I have gone back and responded to older comments and added additional information for ways that my viewers can contact me through a site Clarity.fm. It's a great way to let your new viewers know that you are available and you can grow an income stream. For the [How to] Start a NonProfit Organization, Mission, Vision, Goals and Purpose I use this statement

"I'd love to connect with you and answer any further questions you have. It is just $1 a minute and you can book a time with me at <http://www.clarity.fm/MontinaPortis> or Use my Clarity promo code, 15ba6, and get $20 off your first Clarity call. Redeem it at <https://clarity.fm/invite/15ba6/t>"

It's a great way to connect and take advantage of the Google+ integration. Some viewers will want to connect with you more and I believe that it is important to guard your time and treat your business as a business. There is a time and place for free yet if your video gives them general information and they require more then consider using clarity.

Another site you can use is <http://popexpert.com/montinaportis> and <http://helpouts.google.com>. If you are having a problem providing people an opportunity to invest in your time and services connect with me for 10 minutes on <https://clarity.fm/montinaportis> and let me help you shift that poverty mindset. It will be the best $10 investment you ever made. Big tip: Do not go all over YouTube spamming other channels with your links! Seriously stay away from being a spammer and getting banned. Build your own tribe and create your own content. Remember that the seeds you plant are the harvest you reap.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Record multiple videos in one day and use the scheduling option to post the videos.
- Create your very own reality TV show right now on YouTube.
- Use YouTube to introduce video marketing into your business.
- Join or create challenge videos using YouTube.
- Do your research before publishing your video and utilize the Google Keyword Tool, YouTube search tool and search engines.

- Create a headline that captures viewer's attention.
- Use the Google+ feature and add hyperlinks in the comment section of your videos.

CHAPTER 12: THROUGH THE YEARS (2011)

By the time 2011 ended I had over 100 videos on YouTube and I continued to share information, create how-to videos and share more of my life in this new world. I created the 52-week financial challenge and had thousands of people that enrolled in one simple challenge to save money all because I asked one question. I was becoming a YouTube pro and I didn't even know it.

My company was growing and so were my views, subscribers and my expertise. I created an opportunity within my business for consultants to join, sales for products began to come in and I was still sharing information without any real focus or call to action.

2011 proved to be an interesting YouTube year. Many people stay away from religion and politics yet this was my "call to Jesus" year. This is the year that I went to my very first Joyce Meyer conference and while sharing that experience I was just extremely open about my viewpoint and how I felt about God. I'm sharing this with you because as you are starting to build your channel and building traffic to your website in your email list you may want to directly focus your channel on a specific niche and stay clear of politics and religion.

There are people that teach you to stay far away from religion and politics and treat YouTube and your video marketing efforts like a complete business and tend to want you to focus only on the business side. This book is different because you may not have a business and maybe you're not even interested in starting one. You may just be a person with feelings, viewpoints opinions and a voice that needs to be heard.

Share your message with the world! Shout it from the rooftops and record that video! Most important learn how to get it viewed and create an amazing subscriber base. What sense does it make to keep creating videos that no one can find and watch?

I want to let you know that I believe it is okay to be yourself online so that you can share your messages. If you have a business remember that people do business with people they know, like and trust. My hair is not perfect every single time, my make-up is not applied every single time and I don't always create videos when my home is completely quiet.

One day I recorded a video and didn't realize until afterwards that my son was peaking into the room. Instead of deleting the video, I uploaded it and used graphics to point him out. I created an edutaining video and I didn't even know it! Rather than hide your family or make them be quiet, learn to respect them and be patient. Never make it seem like recording a video is more important than your family. Instead of searching for balance, seek harmony and create a peaceful environment.

When I record I simply let my family know and ask them to be respectful and as soon as I am done I make an announcement to let them know I'm done recording. If you have small children that might be disruptive then considering making videos while they are with a sitter or asleep so it is quiet. Big Tip: Turn off the television, turn down the radio and calm crying babies or agitated animals (barking dog) before recording. The sounds can be annoying. If it happens, stop your video go calm them and then start back with the recording. Your viewers and subscribers will appreciate the consideration and your family will too.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Share your message of hope, inspiration and encouragement with the world.
- Remember that people do business with people they know, like and trust.
- Be authentic online.

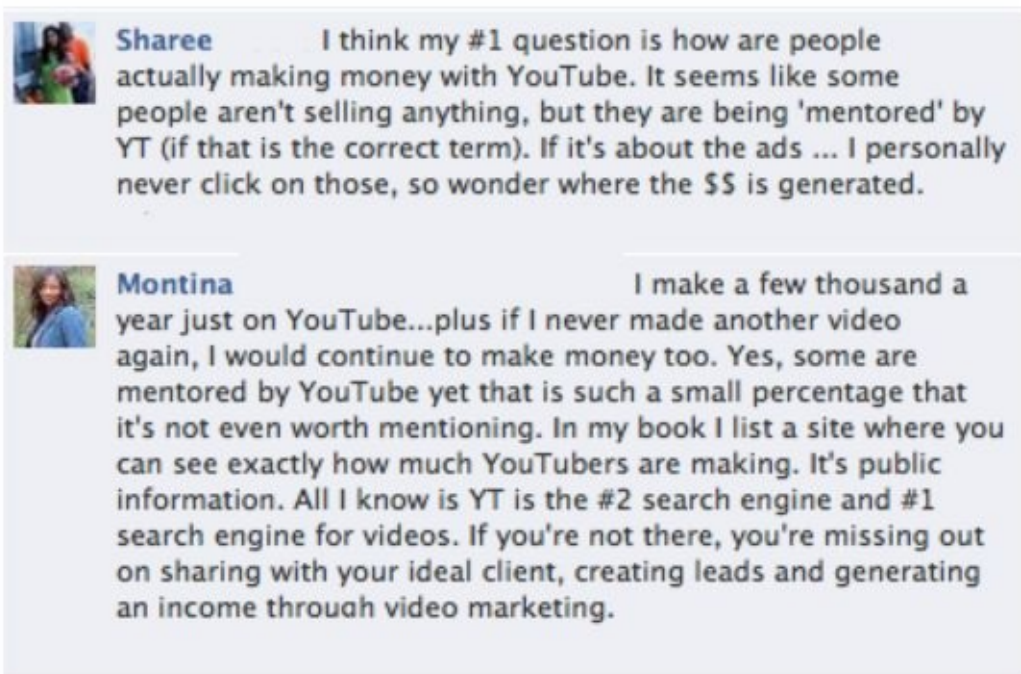

CHAPTER 13: HOW TO BE AUTHENTIC ONLINE

When I took my very first course about video traffic and marketing I quickly realized that I did not want to follow all of the "rules" included in the course. In fact, when I signed up for the academy I had more YouTube subscribers than the instructor yet I heard a new term that I had never thought much about “drive traffic.” The instructor encouraged each student to write a script and use a teleprompter when recording the videos. All of the videos were scripted and really focused only on business.

I find this approach just a bit contriving and decided to go against it and continue using what was working for me and focusing more on research, developing better headlines and adding in more tags. Viewers and subscribers on YouTube are savvy and do not like to be deceived. If you're using YouTube as the only vehicle for business purposes then you can see from the illustrations that are included in chapter 2 it just won't work.

YouTube is not an effective strategy to use 100% for business on your channel. If you want to use video marketing 100% for your business there are several ways to use videos to market that I explain in a free 7-Step Beginner's Class to Video Marketing for Business that I created. You can use the videos to explain your products, create tutorials and so much more.

The #1 question I get about YouTube is “Are people really making money from YouTube?” Yes! There are thousands of people on YouTube making an income from creating videos and using an effective video marketing strategy. According to Social Blade, there are thousands of YouTuber’s making money from their channels and with hard work, dedication and commitment you could too! It may look easy yet it is not. I have over 250 videos uploaded on YouTube and that means that I have discussed over 250 topics.

Here are just a few of the channels making money from their channels:

*The SMOSH (#1 ranked channel on YouTube) Channel has 9,862,491 subscribers with estimated earnings of $1.7k-$16.3K/day and $635.6k-$5.9M/yr.

*The Sxephil channel has 2,566,678 subscribers with estimated earnings of $398-$3.7K/day and $145.3K-$1.4M/yr.

*The TimothyDeLaGhetto2 channel has 1,831,923 subscribers with estimated earning of $134-$1.2K day

Stats and earnings are estimates only at the date of publication*

According to the Online Publishers Association, 80% of Internet users recall watching a video ad on a website they visited in the past 30 days. It gets even better. Of that 80%, 46% took some action after viewing the ad. In fact:

*26% looked for more information about the subject of the video

*22% visited the website named in the ad

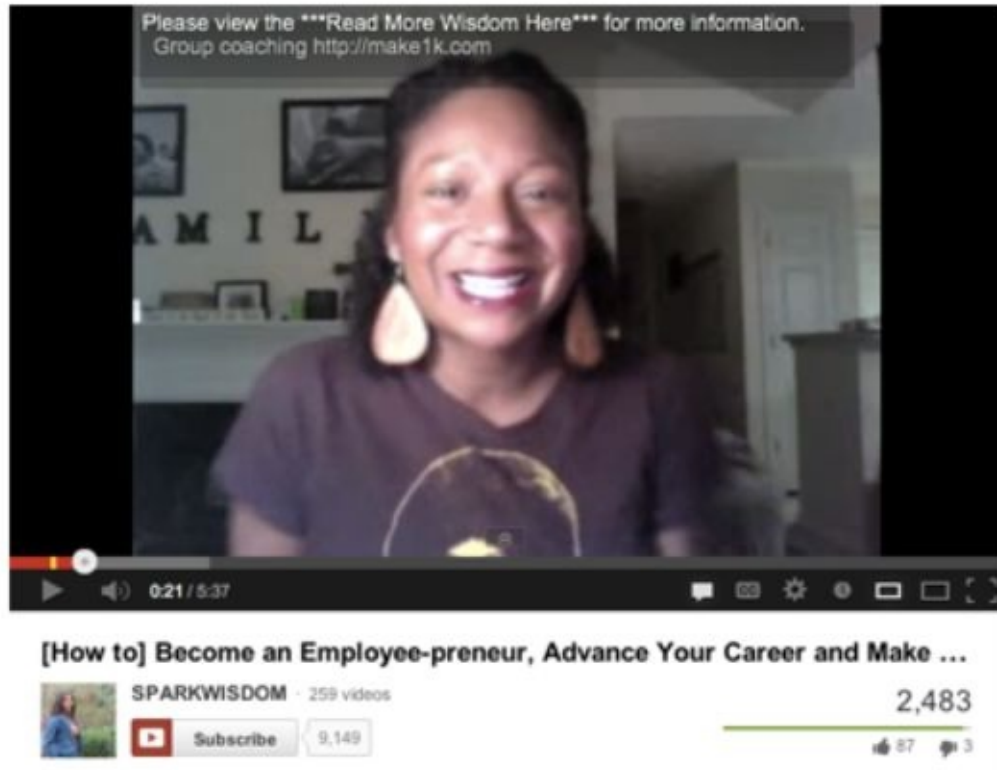

*15% visited the company represented in the video ad

*12% purchased the specific product featured in the ad

64% of visitors are more likely to buy a product on an online retail site after watching a video. In addition, visitors who view videos stay on the site an average of 2 minutes longer than those who don't view videos, comScore says. Even more reason to use video marketing in your business, on your website and on your blog.

I want to encourage you to be who you are online and reflect that through your videos. By doing this you will attract your ideal client, your business will grow, and you can be the amazing person that God created you to be. 2011 was the first time that I used the strategy for gathering email addresses through a survey in my video “How to Get Promoted, Advance Your Career and Make More Money.”

One of the things I found out by accident on YouTube is that it will help you to find out more about yourself. YouTube reveals so much about your life and it's a fantastic place to store your life memories on video. 2011 was a tough year in my life and I only recorded 21 videos in one hour and 46 minutes of content. When I go back and reflect on the videos it was a transition and move from the state I was leaving after 10 years in Florida and my move to Georgia.

Even if you're going through a tough time, I want to encourage you to be consistent with your video uploads. Consistent uploads are extremely important for your views, engagement and subscribers. If you go too long without uploading a video you risk losing your subscribers and traffic to your channel and website.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Just because you aren't making money online doesn't mean that no one else is. Stop thinking so hard and start creating videos.
- Create videos that can be found.
- Use video marketing in your business, on your website and on your blog.
- Consistently upload videos to your channel.
- Move from average to awesome by taking action!

CHAPTER 14: THROUGH THE YEARS (2012)

By the time 2012 came along I had hundreds of videos and had made nearly $25,000 in sales with my company Organic Life Products. I was still working full time and teaching people online how to excel in their fulltime jobs. It really wasn't until 2013 when I discovered the biggest mistake that people make on YouTube.

Now unlike you I had no idea about keywords, optimization, consistency, titles, tags... I was just simply making YouTube videos for fun, sharing my life, sharing my business endeavors, and sharing amazing memories with my viewers and subscribers. Little did I know that while I was creating videos each year while at events like Dani Johnson's First Steps to Success and Joyce Meyer's yearly Women's Conferences I was showcasing how much I had grown as an individual. I ended 2012 with 32 videos and 3 hours of content to end the year.

Do you have a difficult time moving forward in life? Are you still in the same place you were this time last year? Do you constantly talk about starting that business, losing weight, growing stronger spiritually or strengthening your relationships? YouTube will help you with forward progression. You will be able to see how you have grown over the years and not just physically either.

It is very difficult to stay stagnant in life when you are sharing your goals, dreams and ideas with others. You'll find that you will accomplish more; you'll have thousands or perhaps millions of accountability partners one day. Over the years I have watched dozens of YouTubers' create businesses, sign record deals, author books and grow companies all from scratch.

Including videos as a part of your life will help you see your growth in your life over the years. As I look back on videos and reflect on my life I can see how I've grown as an individual, as a mother, in my business and as a friend. Building memories is extremely important and it is certainly a great way to grow your business!

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Implement videos marketing into your life and business marketing efforts.
- Build memories and leave a lasting imprint online using YouTube.

CHAPTER 15: HOW I DISCOVERED THE NUMBER ONE MISTAKE PEOPLE MAKE ON YOUTUBE (2013)

In 2013, I was in the zone! I was full of passion and I began creating more and more videos. From 2009-2012 I was not intentional with my videos or asking for a specific call to action to build traffic and get my viewers on my email list. Somehow I separated my “YouTube world” with my “real world” that included my business, Facebook and seeing my YouTube viewers as my ideal clients. There were a few times when I had a special offer that I wanted to give to my subscribers and I would include it in my video that was later after I created a certain product or service.

The problem with offering something through an annotation or embedded text in the video or even adding it to the about/description box later is that the viewers and subscribers had already viewed the video and weren’t likely to come back. I basically lost an opportunity to capture their information and tell them about any new product or service or even a life-changing event that happened through email. The only way that I could communicate with my subscribers was through YouTube. Do you now see the #1 mistake that people make and how I was making it over the course of four years?

I simply was not making a decision to ask my YouTube subscribers for their email addresses yet my YouTube audience was my ideal client! Over the course of four years I managed to build a community. As you can see from the graph below I clearly had engagement, comments, shares and over 7000 favorites from the videos that I posted on YouTube. Clearly something amazing was going on and I didn't even know it.

In December 2012 I invested in a business coach that helped me to understand how important it was to maximize every single Social Media platform that I was on. By the end of 2012 I had grown a little frustrated with the results from my company, Organic Life Products, and felt like I was overworking for very little profit in return. I decided to focus more of my endeavors on coaching part-time entrepreneurs how to achieve fulltime success. This one decision and simple investment made me look at every single social media platform that I was a part of and ask a major question.

WHY?

Why did I have over 250 videos on YouTube?*

Why did I create so many videos on YouTube and very seldom included a call to action?*

Why was I so consistent and continuing to get the results that I did what was* my intention?

How could I maximize this amazing opportunity and build a list and market to my ideal client?*

There was not one day that went by after I began Organic Life Products that someone didn't ask me a question based on how I started my business and how I managed to continue to work fulltime. So many people asked that I created a video in November 2011 and it was really based on one teaching people how to be employeepreneurs, advance their careers and make more money. I had a dream to see people financially free way before I started teaching people how to do it. Big tip: When people ask you questions, create videos that answer those questions!

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Build an email list using YouTube.
- Create videos that answer questions.
- Why are you creating videos? What do you want to share?

CHAPTER 16: THE TURNAROUND AND HOW TO PRODUCE HIGH QUALITY VIDEOS

The investment I made in an online business coach significantly changed the way I viewed my business and my YouTube channel. This investment gave me an opportunity to really examine what I was doing online, and find out how I could maximize the platforms where I already had a strong presence. This one simple decision made me truly think about why I was creating videos, the messages I wanted to share and how I could help and serve others.

I began thinking, “How will this video help the viewers?” “What’s the benefit for them?” “How will it solve their problems and make their lives easier?” I took time to examine my analytics and examine the top 10 videos that were being viewed on my channel. Little did I know that this one decision was going to give me an opportunity to maximize my profits and minimize my time.

From 2009 until the end of 2012 I recorded with my Logitech WebCam or my MacBook camera. My videos were not high quality at all and I didn’t have a green screen and I hardly ever worried about lighting. I just turned on my computer switched on my WebCam and pretty much hit go. In December 2012 I invested in a new camera and it proved to be an amazing investment for my videos. I now use a Canon SX30 PowerShot and it has provided better quality and easier editing for my videos. I have also used my iPhone 4 to record and the video quality is amazing.

You may not have the extra money to invest in a new camera - yet. I would strongly suggest that you invest in a camera that will get you the best results in the price range you can afford. I recorded videos on my MacBook from 2011-2012 without any problem. From time-to-time I use my iPad mini to record and many people I know use their smartphones as well. Don’t allow the excuse of “bad equipment” stop you from creating a video. You don’t need a $300 camera to start. You can achieve results with a simple point and shoot on your smartphone or tablet. Just set a goal and save your money.

I do suggest that you invest eventually in a camera that will give you the clearest results and a tripod too. There are many smartphone stands and attachments for the tripod. They range in price from $3-$7 and will help you have better videos that are not shaky. It’s amazing how tired your arm can get when holding out even a 4-ounce device. You can find many from Amazon, eBay or Craigslist. Make the investment that will give you a camera that creates videos so that your videos and audio match and there is clarity too. Use the search terms “smartphone stand” or “tripod stand” in eBay.

I also invested in a green screen, seamless paper and light boxes in December 2012. Again, if you want higher quality videos, focus on getting the basics in order first. The editing software I use is iMovie or ScreenFlow and in the past I have used Camtasia and Windows Movie Maker. You can find very simple free editing tools via a simple Google search. Some that I know of are <http://screencast-o-matic.com> and join.me. You can also edit videos directly on YouTube as well using the YouTube trim feature.

Just because you are an amateur doesn't mean that your videos need to scream that to the world. You can also create videos using PowerPoint or Keynote until you get a camera and use a microphone to do a voiceover. I have several microphones that I use including a Blue Snowball, Plantronics headset and my iPhone headphones. All of them give me fantastic clarity and I always get compliments on the videos. So if you are too shy to get in front of the camera you can simply record your screen and do the voiceover until your confidence is built up.

From 2009 until 2012 I recorded over 236 videos! I shared my life, wedding, memories, family, children, business; everything was now public information on YouTube! Now please don't get paralyzed with that number and don't compare yourself with the number either. We are all designed to be strong in certain areas and I simply found my sweet spot. I want to encourage you to create videos, create content, and just be yourself online.

Again this is not the business book on how to make your first million on YouTube. This is a book about the #1 mistake people make on YouTube and how you can use it to your advantage. Even if you're not in business you still can use this information to succeed, build a brand, get more views & subscribes and make money online.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Think about the videos that you create and how they will help others, solve problems and make their lives easier.
- Invest in a camera and a camera stand. The investment does not have to be $300 – it can be simple. The stand is necessary too! Shaky videos make viewers dizzy and are best used for vlogs – not your “how to” tutorials.
- Just because you are an amateur doesn't mean that your videos need to scream that to the world.

CHAPTER 17: HOW TO USE YOUTUBE TO CREATE AND GROW A PASSIVE INCOME STREAM

Five months into 2013 I already had 80 videos recorded and over 8 hours of content. I joined a CreativeLive session and learned one simple strategy that helped me to identify the best title and tags for my videos. For the first time I understood the importance of using keyword tools to optimize my title, descriptions and tags using search tools.

I began researching for keywords and including keywords in my titles. YouTube and Google have free tools that will help you gain more views and build more traffic back to your website. Use them every time you upload a video and go back and check your current titles, description boxes and tags for keyword optimization. Also consider investing in copywriting books and courses. Headlines are as important for videos as they are for writing copy.

Even with making headlines that weren't researched I was still making a few hundred dollars per month on YouTube. I was actually under the impression that everyone was making money on YouTube through video marketing. It was money that I simply used to invest into my other businesses.

Although I was making a few hundred dollars on YouTube per month, after a conversation with a fellow YouTuber "Mohammedabshaun", I realized that I could be making more money on my channel. He asked me how many videos I had monetized and I actually thought I had them all monetized...until I checked and found out I only had 25 of my 200 videos monetized. One conversation can change your life!

Not everyone agrees with YouTube monetization and if you're using YouTube entirely for business you may want to drive traffic instead of monetizing your videos. It is entirely up to you. If you're starting off like I did sharing a message and could use a few hundred dollars per month and want to make money from what you're doing make sure that you monetize your videos. I started making money from my videos the first year.

Creating over 200 videos the last four years also gave me an advantage when I joined a new teaching platform called you Udemy. I was able to create amazing presentations, content and deliver information from my practice on YouTube over the years. Udemy is the world's largest destination for online courses. Their mission is to democratize education by allowing the world's top instructors to teach the world. It is a fantastic platform to create a passive income stream teaching online.

In 2010, 10 Udemy instructors made over $1 million teaching online. Could you create and market a course using video marketing to share your content online? I know you could! We all have something to share and the best part about Udemy is that it is free to join as an Instructor and you could begin creating content today.

If you want to earn an amazing passive income stream and teach others what you are passionate about then you definitely want to check out this online teaching platform. I even created a course “How to Create a Passive Income Teaching Online” that can help you get started making a passive income stream on this platform and you can access it and have your course ready in the next 24 hours! So many people have ideas and that’s good, yet ideas will not pay your bills – execution will.

You may be wondering why I took so much time to explain so much about my journey on YouTube. I did all of this because you are probably starting off on YouTube start just like I did. You, too, have a story that you want to tell the world, you want to help others solve problems, you want to help others identify their dreams and give hope and you probably don’t realize the power of YouTube. I talk more about growing a passive income stream in “HOW TO MAKE MONEY ONLINE: How to Grow a Passive Income in 20 Simple Steps” and it is available directly on Amazon.

In the next part of this book we will go through specific ways that you can create an amazing YouTube channel, amazing videos and make sure that you create videos that people can find so that you can build traffic, build that email list and definitely be seen as an expert in your niche.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Optimize titles, descriptions and tags using keyword research tools
- Monetize your videos.
- Teach others what you are passionate about online and utilize the Udemy platform.
- Look for ways outside of YouTube to make money. Use YouTube as a platform to share and build your brand.

CHAPTER 18: THE #1 MISTAKE REVEALED

So here it is. Did you skip to this chapter? I probably would have! The #1 mistake that people make on YouTube is that they are failing to build an email list from the very beginning. Now you may not have a business and you may not have a website where you can build a list. By making this this mistake I'm sure it cost me thousands and thousands of dollars as well as thousands and thousands of amazing people joining my community. How do I know? Because when I finally put in a call to action for my email list in the "About" section of my videos in a few short weeks I had nearly 1000 email addresses added to my email list.

Guess where they all came from? That's right they all came from YouTube. This was simply by inserting my email link in the "About" section. I didn't place my website address first or direct my subscribers and viewers to my website. I didn't even ask for them to leave their emails within my videos. I simply placed a link in the "About" section and immediately I began to build email list that was my ideal client.

I chose to strategically place a trackable email link in the "About" section instead of my website address because I wanted to be strategic in my approach and I know that most of my subscribers on YouTube want to stay there and continue watching videos. A simple email link with "Work with Me" or a free offer was a great way to get something to my subscribers that they wanted.

You can also use an external annotation link at the end of your video that leads back to your opt-in offer. Simply verify that you are the owner of your website and activate this feature if you have it available on your channel at <https://www.youtube.com/features>. According to YouTube Head of Product for Creators and Curators Dror Shimshowitz, "It's a trade-off between taking them off the site to further engage with them through merchandise and other opportunities versus having them watch more of their videos."

Over the years I developed many friendships from YouTube and a fondness for my subscribers. Yes many of them have become my online friends! Some of my subscribers I had met in person and I truly can say that my inbox was full of people that considered me their coach, their bff (best friend for life), their sister and their mentor in their head.

The site that I like using to create trackable links is bitly.com. You can save, search, and organize all your links from around the web. Group them into bundles. Share them with friends. If you don't want them on your public profile, just mark them as private. The best reason to use a trackable link is to get real-time information about who's clicking your link. So if you're including a link in your "About" description box, how do you know if you are gaining traffic from your channel? You can also create trackable links for each video although this would be a lot more work to create and track the links.

I absolutely loved communicating with all of my subscribers and viewers on YouTube and I still wanted to continue that same passion within my communication yet through email. Now I could reach them beyond video and also share some of the other platforms where I was connected to such as Facebook, Twitter and my podcast in iTunes. One simple link has changed my life, built a list and given me an amazing way to communicate beyond video with my prospects and ideal clients.

Now I know there are many of you that may not have a list and there may be some of you that have a small subscriber base. I am giving this information out because even if you want to grow your list, have a small list or if you were making YouTube videos you still have an opportunity to grow your list and build traffic. You can direct this traffic back to your website, Facebook Business page, Twitter, Pinterest or any other Social Media platform that you may be a part of.

I started my first business on a free site, eCrater, and I know many people that use Etsy and a number of sites where they are unable to create an opt-in offer. To learn how to build an email list using YouTube I taught a course "How

to Build an Email List Without a Website” and there is an immediate download available that you can listen to and view along with a worksheet.

It is very important to create a compelling opt-in offer. I currently use a free 7-Step Beginner’s Class and a 3-minute video is delivered daily to their inbox for 7 days. I have also used infographs too for an opt-in offer. You must give people a reason to want to give you their email address. A simple Google search for “opt-in offer” will help or you can read more about it on my website. Just don’t miss this step!

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Build an email list on YouTube starting today.
- Place a trackable email link in the “About” section that leads back to your opt-in form.
- Use an external annotation to link back to your website or opt-in offer.
- Create a compelling opt-in offer.

CHAPTER 19: HOW TO USE THE ABOUT SECTION TO YOUR ADVANTAGE

YouTube is the 2nd largest search engine after Google. Over 800 million unique visitors visit YouTube each month, while over 4 billion hours of video are being watched each month. You have an amazing opportunity to connect and build a community and drive traffic to your website and build that email list.

YouTube has an about section where you can fit 5000 characters in this section where people can find you, connect with you and you can use optimized keywords and descriptions for content that can build search traffic, video views and traffic which can ultimately result in subscribers to your channel. Think of this space as Search Engine Optimization (SEO) heaven. Add keywords, an article, a blog post and all other relevant information about your video and potential search items.

If someone is searching for a particular phrase or word your video has a better chance at coming up in top results. I have also heard that the Google algorithms work better when you use more unique keywords in your title, description and tags. Since I don't work for Google I can't confirm this as true. All I know is search engines see the keywords in your description meta-tags and you want to optimize that space!

Since YouTube is the world's 2nd largest search engine you want to optimize your video to take advantage of this fact! YouTube highlights the search phrase in the first sentence of your description also so make sure that you have included the keywords in the first sentence of your description. Remember, you are on YouTube to share, inspire, have fun, educate and lead people. By optimizing your video title, description, tags and file you will have an advantage over other videos and an opportunity to get more views and build an email list with your ideal client. Do not miss out on this opportunity!

Someone recently asked me if this was important because they don't have a business right now. Yes it is! I had a nonprofit yet had never even thought of a forprofit business. Even if you decide to grow a business later if you don't start now you will miss out on hundreds or possibly thousands of emails available with this opportunity. Plus, remember you can upload videos for free and that means free advertising for your business. Include a call to action and you will see your traffic and list grow.

Think of it this way, even if you only use their email to build up a list of people that think like you, a simple mastermind group, or just have new friends, this is still an amazing opportunity to add people that are already interested in what you have to say to your email list. Remember if they don't want to give you their email address then they won't. It is completely up to them.

I know you might be thinking "I want to know how to make money ON YouTube" not through an opt-in offer. Well you can monetize your channel and start making money through AdSense. Think of your email list as a branch that is on your money tree. Use it as a funnel for your products, services, merchandise and information products. The treasure is really in the email list and it doesn't cost to build it using a free service such as MailChimp. If you don't have a website I have a course that teaches exactly how to build an email list without a website, forward domains and create subdomains. No excuses allowed! You can enroll in the course on Udemy.

According to an article posted by Carly Lanning on New Media Rockstars "...becoming one of the top creators on YouTube takes consistency, a nonstop work schedule and a growing audience that have chosen to spend their valuable time watching your videos instead of the millions of others found on YouTube. But the rise to million-dollar salaries has taken all of these creators years to generate through their video-making hard work." There are channel creators that are making hundreds of thousands of dollars per month and you can read more about them in an article on New Media Rockstars that lists the "Top 25 Earning Creators' AdSense Salaries Revealed" in an infographic.

They make money from their channels, sites, advertising and merchandise and YOU CAN TOO! It doesn't happen overnight and requires a TON of work. I actually remember when 1 of the YouTuber's in the infographic was starting out. Always remember: The answers we get come from the questions we ask. Instead of asking "Are people really making money on YouTube?" Ask how YOU can make money on and using YouTube video marketing.

If what you are doing isn't going to get you where you want to go, do something different. I don't worry about Google AdSense because I understand the value of building a community. I make a few hundred dollars per month and I'm fine with that because with my products and coaching I make a few thousand per month. If you have a few thousand subscribers I would also recommend that you do not review products or services unless your videos are sponsored. It just doesn't make sense to get a free product worth $50 and spend your time reviewing it in a 5-minute video and they get lifetime views. It's your channel so don't be afraid to ask for a monetary investment for your time and brand.

I also want to encourage you to see the value in building your community and be sure to engage. Remember that if you keep doing what you're doing and you're not achieving the results that you want then you have to do something different. You can also use this site to peek on other site stats.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Connect and build a community, drive traffic to your website and build that email list.

- Use keywords in your title, tags and descriptions and optimize the first sentence with keywords.
- Include a call to action in the “About” description box.
- Always remember: The answers we get come from the questions we ask.

CHAPTER 20: HOW TO OPTIMIZE THE ABOUT SECTION

The next image that you will see is an example of an “About” section that I completed in 2010. As you can see I did know just a little bit enough to add information about how I use black soap. Over the years I began to fill out the “About” sections because I was doing a lot of tutorials and “how to” videos and I would get so many additional questions and comments so I began including the information, recipes and ingredients in the “About” section. I was sharing my call to action trackable link in the first sentence initially and have since included it further in the description to take advantage of Google keyword optimization and YouTube search results. As you learn new tips, strategies and secrets implement them as quickly as possible in your business and life. The people that “see” the results are those that take action.

In the next pages, I am going to give you specific information how you can optimize your “About” section just a little bit more. We are going to optimize this description and I’m going to give you a basic template on how you can include all of the necessary information in your description box. I did not change the title because the video comes up as #1 in the Google search engines and includes searched keywords and accurately represents the video content.

As you can see below, it ranks #1 on the first page of Google and on a few other websites that have featured my video as well. I do know that SEO has changed and Google has been filtering search results and it is understood that you may not see the same results that I see. I get that and I don’t know, all I know is I have multiple videos that come up #1 when I search and some that I am still working on with the SEO that do not have page 1 results.

One of my videos [“\[How To\] Make Your Own Lipstick Tutorial Out of Crayons - Super Easy!”](#) took several weeks, tweaking and research to rank on the front page of Google results. My goal is the front page because I am making videos that I want others to see. What sense does it make to create videos no one can find? That would be a complete waste of time and if you choose to do that then just make your videos private and watch them with your family and friends.

There are some people that will build entire websites based off the content in your videos. Don't worry about that and keep moving forward creating videos. Learn how to simply control what you can control. I would suggest branding your video with your YouTube channel name or website. You can add this to the entire video or parts of it. I began doing this when I found websites that were using my videos for their own personal and financial gain.

You can also control the embedding option within YouTube by not allowing your videos to be embedded within other websites but again that is your choice. Just remember that if you disable the embedding option you will also be unable to use your video on your site as well.

The outlined sites are using my videos on their sites. These sites have stolen my content and are attempting to generate traffic from my video. The only video that is actually my information is the second video that links directly back to my YouTube channel. The only way around this is to brand your videos with your YouTube name and website address. This is simple to do in most software editing programs. I edit my videos with ScreenFlow or iMovie and simply insert text in the bottom right-hand corner of the video.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Optimize the About box with keywords, links to your website and relevant information from the video.
- Use the 5000 characters available and include a basic template of information for each video.
- Set a goal to reach the first page of YouTube and Google search results
- Consider branding your video inconspicuously.

CHAPTER 21: HOW TO CREATE ENGAGEMENT

My favorite site for creating a very simple customizable tweet for Twitter is Click to Tweet.

The image shows the Clicktotweet website interface. On the left, a blue box contains the text "What is clicktotweet?" and "Clicktotweet is the best, easiest and simplest way to promote and advertise your stuff on Twitter." Below this, a black box titled "Here's how it works..." lists three steps: 1. Write the message you want to share in the box. 2. Click the "Generate" button to create a custom link. 3. Share the link. On the right, a white box contains a large text input area, a "140" character count, a "Generate Link!" button, and a preview section showing the URL "http://clicktotweet.com/" and a preview of the tweet.

What is clicktotweet?

Clicktotweet is the best, easiest and simplest way to promote and advertise your stuff on Twitter.

Here's how it works...

1. Write the message you want to share in the box.
2. Click the "Generate" button to create a custom link.
3. Share the link.

140

Generate Link!

Here's your URL:

<http://clicktotweet.com/>

Here's a preview:

<http://clicktotweet.com/>

It works great and whoever clicks on the customized link that you created will have the message automatically added to their Twitter status box, then they simply click to tweet! Share this link to view the custom message I created.

CREATE HOW TO VIDEOS

Out of the top 10 videos I have with over 500,000 views “How to” videos rank the best and create the most likes, comments, favorites and shares. If you have a business this may be one of the best ways to drive traffic to your site, products or affiliate links. Many times when we watch a “how to” video they are willing and able to purchase items based on the emotion that comes from watching the video and desiring to create their own natural products.

Before I ever created the company I created tutorials, “how to” videos and sold the products I made before I even set up my first website. In fact I created the video tutorials because so many people were asking me what I was using in my hair and on my skin because it was glowing. The videos were really created because I never wanted to make the products to sell. My intent was never to create a company yet as you see the company grew to nearly 100 consultants and over $50,000 in sales in under three years.

Remember that #1 mistake? Well as you can see even though I never had an intent of growing a company, if I were building an email list I could have at least had the email addresses of some of the viewers that watched the videos and been able to communicate with them that I opened up a company to provide all of the products they need from the videos.

This video still continue to get so many views. See the circle with question mark inside? This is my view count as using states for popular videos the counter updated every few hours so I’m still getting a lot of use and I still have an opportunity to build an email list from this video.

That’s one of the things I like about YouTube. Even if you put the video up one time and you never go back again, or you start your channel and put up a few videos, you never lose the views. They continue to grow which is great. That is why it is extremely important that you have keywords in your title and your description is complete so that people can find your videos. Your views will keep growing and growing and growing!

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Create a customizable “tweet” to share your video
- Videos that are uploaded to YouTube continue to gain views and grow – optimize the title and description with keywords

- Encourage others to share your video

CHAPTER 22: HOW TO GET ONE PAGE GOOGLE RESULTS BY OPTIMIZING METADATA

The next video description box that we will examine is “How to Create a Passive Income with the Udemy Affiliate Program. Udemy is the world’s largest destination for online courses. Udemy is a website that empowers anyone to teach and learn online and there are thousands of online courses from the best instructors and the world. This is an excellent platform if have classes that you would like to teach online.

The metadata that will surround this video is extremely important since YouTube is the world’s 2nd largest search engine. Metadata is the information that surrounds your video this includes your title, tags, and description. We want to optimize each video that we upload to take advantage of this fact. The set of data informs YouTube’s algorithm of the videos content and it is going to assist with our search indexing, related videos and ad serving. Let’s get started optimizing this about description.

As you can see from the examples, I optimized the “About” section with keywords. It is extremely important to optimize all of the allocated space we have for our title and descriptions.

The screenshot shows the 'About' tab of a YouTube video. At the top, the video title is 'How to Create a Passive Income with the Udemy Affiliate Program'. The channel name is 'SPARKWISDOM' with 260 videos and 788 views. Below the channel name is a 'Subscribe' button and a subscriber count of 9,158. The video has 47 likes and 2 dislikes. The 'About' tab is selected, showing the following text:

How would you feel if you knew that every time you created a YouTube video with your message that you could be on the front page of Google and drive traffic back to your website or blog? Your message of hope, inspiration for youth, motivation for single moms or even a message about your business and products could be found and heard. How great would that feel? You can! It took me nearly 4 years to figure out how and you don't have to take that long!

Included in the resource pages in the back of the book is a template you can use to optimize your “About” section. Optimize the first sentence! The first few lines will appear in the Google search results. Make sure that you use this space for compelling and descriptive content. Remember this space is important so include keywords, offer links to subscribe or watch your playlist, information about your channel and any other helpful information that you believe is important for your audience.

There will also be a “plug and play” template in the Resource Pages. Use keywords in the first two sentences of the description and include your template as well. You want to be sure to optimize the first 1-2 sentences, as they will appear in search results. Remember to use as many primary and secondary keyword phrases as you can fit in the description. YouTube allows 5000 characters in the “About” section. This is an excellent place to put a blog post, a short article or as I displayed in the example below information from my website about black soap and all of the benefits.

In YouTube you don’t have to worry too much about watering down your SEO (Search Engine Optimization) by using too many keywords. You want to use multiple keywords in your videos so that you can get more traffic and views from YouTube. More traffic, more views and more subscribers means that you have an opportunity to build your email list and get more traffic back to your website or your Social Media platform of choice. Use every character available in your title to maximize the chances of your video being discovered.

Always remember never ever SPAM within the “About” section on YouTube. Simply put, don’t use keywords that do not describe your video. You will lose credibility with your subscribers and you could get banned from YouTube. Include a short description about your video. And additional details or site an article. Always be sure to give credit to the original source.

Every video that you record, upload and publish will reach new viewers across the Internet. An optimized description is a great opportunity for you to let new viewers know about your channel, subscribing or playlists that you have created. Always remember to include: Links to your subscribe to your channel, links to related content, links for social media and always use ‘http:// so that your links turn into hyperlinks for your visitors.

Include information where subscribers and viewers can find you online.

Be sure to also include keywords in your descriptions. Examples of playlist that I created are below.

When creating your video titles be sure to be creative. Think of the title of your video as the headline like a magazine or tagline that will pique the interest of your potential viewers. Also create a set of standard tags that you would use on your channel for any video that you publish. These tags should apply to most of the content that you produce if it is how to work tutorial or funny video. Using keyword rich metadata that includes relevant information about the video will give your video an opportunity to rank higher in the Google and YouTube search engines. Higher rankings can increase your views and subscribers.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Metadata is the information that surrounds your video this includes your title, tags, and description – use it.
- Create an About description template.
- Never ever SPAM within the “About” section on YouTube. Simply put, don’t use keywords that do not describe your video.

CHAPTER 23: HOW TO GET MORE SUBSCRIBERS

One question that I am asked often is “How can I get more subscribers to my channel?”

MsPlatinumfaces

I have a question... Can you advise on how to get more subscribers and also to have people communicate with me in my comment section. I've been on YouTube for 1 a year and I have 79 subscribers but only about 6 will comment every blue moon. What can I do to help grow my channel. I realize I can't make anyone talk or subscribe but what can I do to help. Thanks in advance :-)

My first year I ended with over 52,000 video views and over 600 subscribers and had no idea what I was doing! All I know is, I talked back to my viewers and thanked them for watching. I spent time reading the comments, engaging and including answers to questions that my subscribers would ask. I also mentioned my subscribers in my videos and did a few video responses to popular topics.

The best way to gain subscribers is to add value, be creative and be consistent. Listen to your viewers and give them what they want in the best way possible in the shortest amount of time. Include royalty free music in your background and make sure it is low. I made a mistake and had it too high in a video once and the complaints came in. That might sound discouraging yet I was so happy that my subscribers let me know there was a problem!

It is hard to hear you speak because of the volume of your music. Could you please turn it down a bit. Thanks.

I uploaded a video with the music low. Sorry about that!

If there is a problem with the videos too loud, if someone makes a comment about the mess on the floor in the background or a messy room acknowledge it and fix it. Your subscribers are paying attention to you and if you want to keep them and gain more than you'll need to listen to their feedback and create better videos.

What surprised me the most was that even though I uploaded a video that had loud distracting music I didn't receive any "dislikes" for the video. YouTube has a very loyal community and they do pay attention to the message. Since I fixed the problem they were forgiving and appreciate too. Look at the responses!

You may be wondering why I left up the original video. I left the video up because it had views and comments already that I didn't want to lose. I also left the video up as an example of a mistake I made and quickly resolved for my viewers. I wanted them to see how I communicated and responded to their comments and concerns.

There was one video that I did in response to a video “I Still Don’t Single Moms” and to this day it is my least favorite video on YouTube. You might be wondering why I still have it up and the short answer to that is that it is still getting views! The video has over 173 comments and I uploaded it in 2009 and I still get a comment from time to time. There will be videos that you won't like and my suggestion to you is to leave them up.

Older videos will show the growth and maturation that has occurred in your life and channel. You will grow, your life will change and you will look back at videos and wonder “Why in the world did I record, upload and publish this?” I will admit that there are a few videos that I have hidden yet out of over 250 videos that number is just 3. Remember that you will evolve and change and that is a great thing.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- The best way to gain subscribers is to add value, be creative and be consistent.
- Communicated and respond to your viewers comments and concerns.
- YouTube has a very loyal community and they do pay attention to the message

CHAPTER 24: CONSISTENCY IS KING

You must also be consistent with your uploads especially in the beginning. Start with a goal of once a week and simply flip on your camera, record, upload and publish. Be sure that if you have a camera that you have to hold or a laptop that you're using that you give yourself a 5 second pause in the beginning and at the end. Just stare into the camera and speak and at the end just smile for 5 seconds.

If you don't have editing software this will give you an opportunity to trim the video directly on YouTube using the free editing feature. Just by taking the time to do this simple action your video will be set apart from the garbage that is out there. You may not have the best camera so use what you have and make it the best it can be.

If you have "those days" where you just have so much information you want to share in front of the camera consider recording multiple videos in one day. I do it all the time! You can record a month of videos in 20-30 minutes. There are times when I change my top or add a scarf or jacket and other days I just keep it moving. Keep this in mind and do what works best for you.

There are so many people that will tell you how to do it. I've even noticed a shift online of guru's telling you what to do and they're not even doing what they teach. For example, how can I teach you how to get more views yet not do what I'm teaching you? I am in the trenches with you. I am a YouTuber and I create YouTube videos. So, instead of telling you how, I'd like to give you a template of what has worked for me in the past and how I believe it will help you to get more views, subscribers, build a list and drive traffic back to your site. You'll know what will work best for your channel.

Know who you are, your personal situation and your why. When you are clear about why you are on YouTube and what message you are sharing you will be able to stay focused on your journey, channel and be clear about the direction you want to take. Someone that wanted me to take my channel a different direction and focus only on health and beauty videos, so that I could market specific products and affiliate links, recently approached me.

They had this “big idea” for me. They began explaining to how I could make “so much money” marketing health and beauty products exclusively on my channel and in front of my community. Sounds promising right? Wrong! I am very clear on my why and I am not out to create videos that are all about reviews and marketing. I am not pimping my community! I learned this from a mistake I once made when someone asked me to do a product review.

I agreed yet when I received the product I found that the product would not work for me and it was also something that I could never recommend to others. I had to send the creator a message and tell them that I could not do a review and send the product back. I could have done a negative review yet I believe that any advertisement for a business whether positive or negative is still free advertising to my viewers and it is something I just don't choose to do.

Also, the person with the “big idea” didn’t even have 50 subscribers. Success leaves clues...

Personally I do not recommend items I do not personally use. If I do recommend a product or service I contact the company for an affiliate link or sponsorship. I do not purposely go out and search for products, I simply talk about products and if they are amazing – I will recommend them. Over the 4 years’ I have been on YouTube I have only recommended a few products with affiliate links including a few books from Amazon. You are welcome to advertise what you want and do what works for you. Just be sure that you are giving an honest review and inform viewers if you are using an affiliate link. Always be honest and don’t spam.

Note: I used my Amazon affiliate link. Yep, I'll get 2% from the sale...maybe a dollar...doesn't matter if you use it or not, get the book!

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Give an honest review – don’t give false reviews or feel like you “have” to give a review for a product you don’t like.
- Any advertisement for a business whether positive or negative is still free advertising – choose wisely.
- Know who you are, your personal situation and your why.

CHAPTER 25: HOW TO GAIN MORE SUBSCRIBERS AND BE CREATIVE ONLINE

Be careful not to compete or compare what your videos are doing to others. I am only subscribed to people I actually watch and engage with. If you compare your new channel to a channel that has been on YouTube for 5 years, 15,000 subscribers and 2 million views you will get discouraged. We are all beautiful, unique creatures and when we make the mistake of comparing our lives to others we begin to see a small picture of reality. Stay focused on what you are doing on your channel and let God do the rest.

Keep your videos 3-5 minutes long unless it is a tutorial and you need to go a bit longer. I learned by trial and error my first few years on YouTube and now I continue to keep my videos under 5 minutes when I can. I see so many people that are new to YouTube creating videos that are sometimes 15-20 minutes long. No one wants to watch you talk for 20 minutes.

If you have not established a strong subscriber base then you are not going to have high engagement and you will be wasting a lot of time creating videos that no one is watching. If you do have videos that are longer than 5 minutes create a video series out of them.

Another great way to gain more views and add more subscribers is to include your family and pets in your videos. I began doing this in 2009 and have continued and everyone has enjoyed watching the children grow. Advertisers do it all the time in commercials and your viewers will be able to connect with you more.

Marlo Man is our family dog and he keeps me company during the day while I'm working so it is so much fun having him around. Plus, from time to time if he barks when I'm recording I can add an annotation and link back to a video he's in.

Remember it's about connecting and engaging with your subscribers. If you want to gain more subscribers include annotations in your video with specific "calls to action." Annotations can help increase viewership, engagement and of course help you to gain more subscribers. Simple annotations that you include could be additional information about the video, asking the viewers to subscribe, make areas of the video clickable, and encourage viewers to "like" the video or leave a comment.

Be creative and just like any great relationship remember to communicate. There are times when you can let your subscribers know that you are glad that they are part of your community. Thank them for watching and ask them to share the video on their social networks. Be careful not to be spammy – remember the 80/20 rule and why people are on YouTube.

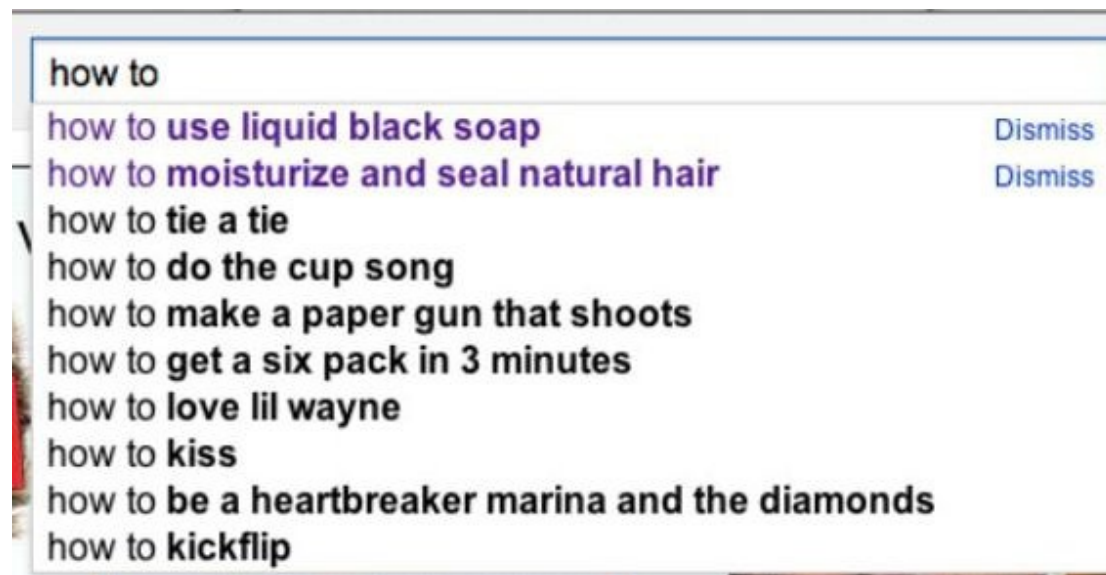

If they want to be bombarded with commercials they would just turn on the television. Remember why you are on YouTube and what your purpose is and stay true to who you are and your purpose. YouTube is one of the best places to attract your ideal client and to attract “haters” too.

I’m not going to spend a lot of time telling you all about the haters and trolls on YouTube. Haters are everywhere online and you’ll quickly find that when you have a message, they are right there with their message for the world through your comment section too. I know that you may be afraid of the haters.

I know that you may think that the haters are going to make fun of you online, criticize you and harass you. I’ll help you get rid of that worry and simply state they will! The haters are going to do what they do best – spread their venomous hate! Do not allow them to bully you online. Spread love, inspire and when necessary block, remove and move on to the next one.

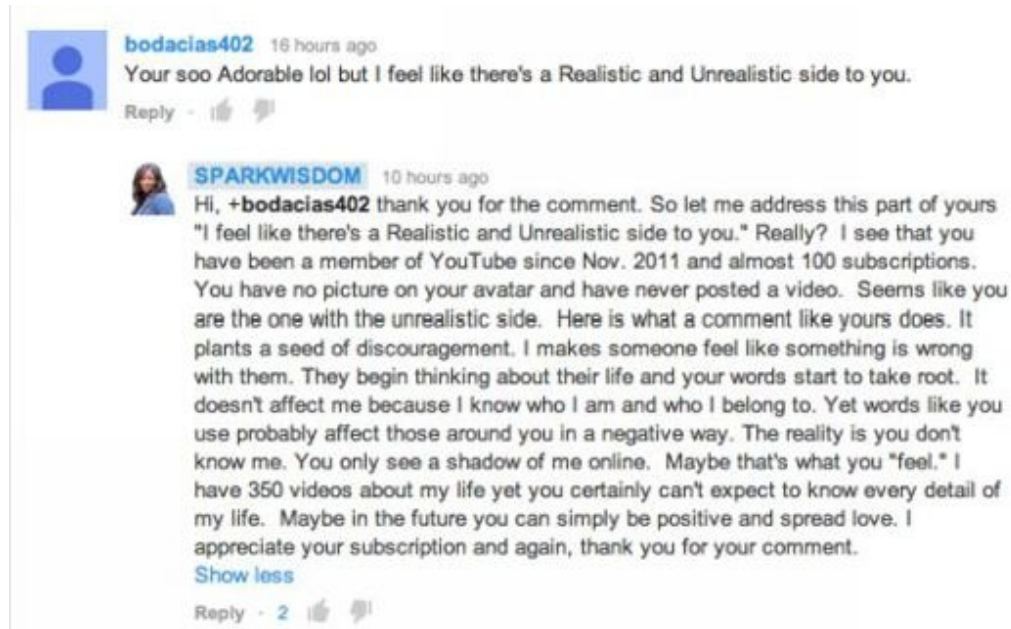

My favorite videos to make online are “How to” videos. They are fun, add value and solve problems for viewers. “How to” is also the most searched phrase on YouTube. If you want more views, you want to strongly focus on “how to” videos and teach others how to do something. Now you can teach anything from cooking, creating a home remedy, sewing, make-up, natural hair and fitness videos. Just make sure that you have unique content and that your personality comes out. The possibilities are endless!

Don’t worry about what has already been created and what everyone else is doing or has done. Even after 200 videos recorded, uploaded and published there are still times when I think “What will ‘they’ say?” running through my head. I even did a post about it “How to Overcome Your Deepest Fear.” Worrying about what everyone else has done or what others will think is just a form of fear that is going to keep you from accomplishing your dreams and taking action on your ideas to turn them into a reality.

Update

I am going to include a recent interaction I had with a recent subscriber. Even with 15,000 subscribers I still take time to read the comments and respond. If you are unable to read the comment, please visit the video and search for the username below.

Stop being afraid of what people will say or do and know that “they” will hide behind their computer. “They” will say things that hurt. Get over it. Delete and ban and keep it moving. It’s your channel and just like your house, you determine whom you will allow in.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Keep your videos 3-5 minutes long unless it is a tutorial and you need to go a bit longer.
- “How to” is also the most searched phrase on YouTube. If you want more views, you want to strongly focus on “how to” videos and teach others how to do something.

CHAPTER 26: HOW TO MAKE MONEY ONLINE

This chapter alone would require me to write another book and that is exactly what I plan to do. As you saw from the Social Blade statistics it is possible to make money online and there are YouTube creators doing it. You can too with a strategic mission. You can use affiliate links in the “About” section, you can do a “how to” video or tutorial and market a product that you make and plan to sell.

I strongly suggest using your platform on YouTube to pre-sell products. Find out if it is a product other people would be interested in before you spend money making it and in some cases you can even pre-sale the product on YouTube. You can also use the video as an explainer video for your website, vision or products and you can even add in a product that can add leads directly to your email list and include clickable calls-to-action.

Creating and building your list is going to give you an opportunity to market to people that you have built a rapport with. People do business with people they know, like and trust. By using YouTube to build your email list you know that those that have opted in are interested in your message. Even if you don't have a product or service to market you have people that are interested in what you have to say.

You will also have an opportunity to form an online accountability group or perhaps a face-to-face Meetup group in your city. YouTube is a fantastic place to integrate video marketing for your business. Forrester Research found that a single minute of video is worth 1.8 million words!

One simple video that explains your company vision and mission can save you time so that you can focus on converting your passion into profits! If you want to learn more and use video marketing in your business than be sure to sign up for the 7-Step Beginner's Class to Video Marketing for Business. Video creates a much more personal connection with your customers and clients and it is a great way to share messages of hope, change and inspire brand evangelists'.

Specific ways that you can make money online with YouTube include: Affiliate links, enrolling in the Google AdSense program, advertising products, teach people how to use a product that you get for free, sell your channel to advertisers, create a business that sells a product, create tutorials about a product and then sell it online, provide coaching services, creating a video series or interview series and so many more.

My husband introduced me to a gentleman who is now one of my favorite authors, inspirational speakers, teachers and people online - Mr. Eric Thomas. He is known on YouTube as “etthehiphoppreacher” and he is PHENOMENAL! You might be wondering why I’m including him in the “Make Money Online” chapter? Quite frankly, I should have included him in every chapter! I am including him here because my husband heard about him on YouTube and he had been creating videos for nearly 5 years before he was “discovered.” He is now even attributed to the quote “When You Want to Succeed as Bad As You Want To Breathe.”

Through watching his videos I felt an immediate connection and through a series of events I had the opportunity of a lifetime. I interviewed Mr. E.T. LIVE in March 2013. I included the interview with Mr. E.T. on my YouTube channel and my radio show and could have easily repurposed it as an Inspirational CD. I wanted to interview him because I could identify with his story.

He went from a homeless high school dropout to one of the most sought after motivational speakers in the country. I, too, had a G.E.D. and lived in a homeless shelter with my 9-month-old daughter in Alliance, OH in 1997. Every time I heard him speak something inside of me would come alive and leap!

Still to this day I can listen to his messages over and over and over! I workout to his mixtape and have programmed my iPhone alarm so that I wake up to his message “Hustle Hard” from his “BluePrint 2 Success” CD. The last time I checked he still has it available for free on his site so hurry and get your download of this mixtape too.

Now, I would not recommend selling an interview unless you have permission from the person you interview first. I do recommend using the interview to build your list as an opt-in offer and including it on your website. Tim Ferris speaks specifically about this method in Chapter 9 of “The 4-Hour Workweek” – Income Autopilot I. You could create an informational product that could be sold to your markets using your expertise or borrowed expertise.

Update

I wrote that book! HOW TO MAKE MONEY ONLINE: How to Grow a Passive Income in 20 Simple Steps was written with the beginner in mind and was written for the part-time entrepreneur that wants to grow a passive income stream yet does not have an enormous amount of resources available due to work and limited time. These are very simple steps that anyone can use to grow a passive income stream and I include a few ways to start a passive income stream too. It is available for immediate download and was ranked as a #1 international bestseller within 48 hours of launching without any free promotions.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Pre-sell products using YouTube Video Marketing.
- There are multiple ways to make money using YouTube –implement them in your videos and business.
- Reach out and connect with others on YouTube.
- Consider creating an information product from an interview or your YouTube videos.

CHAPTER 27: HOW TO BECOME FAMOUS ONLINE

Sunday is my day of rest to disconnect from being the teacher and put my learning hat on all day long. One particular Sunday I decided I wanted to take time to watch Social Triggers founder, Derek Halpern's, YouTube channel. The "How to Become Famous" video was one that I knew I could use and I took notes. Derek says that "When you're seen with someone famous it rubs off on you." This is great advice if you want to make money online and have not had time or an opportunity to build up your own brand recognition. Again, as you're using YouTube to build a list there is a snowball effect and you now can market in so many different ways to your viewers.

Consider doing a book or product review, or tell about your involvement in personal development or attendance at a personal development seminar. I did a book review on MJ DeMarco's "The Millionaire Fastlane," I did videos about my experience meeting Dani Johnson who was once a broke, homeless cocktail waitress turned millionaire in 2 short years at her world renown "First Steps to Success," my experience seeing Tony Robbin's LIVE at "Unleash the Power Within," or Joyce Meyer one of my favorite teachers of the Word of God at a "Women's Conference."

One of my favorite experiences was my road trip to Texas with my daughter to attend Sandi Krakowski's "Saturday with Sandi" event. Sandi was chosen as one of Forbes top 50 Social Media Power Influencers in the World as well as one of the top 20 Women Social Media Influencers and is the author of "Read Their Minds." You, too, can use your voice on YouTube to share your life experiences at events or about the books that have helped reshape, transform and change your life.

Update

I attended Jim Cockrum's Consult Expand Sell event in Orlando, FL in November 2013 and implemented this strategy. Jim is known as the #1 trusted Internet Marketer and there were also other experts in attendance like Jason and Cinnamon Miles, creators of Liberty Jane Clothing and the founder of Death Wish Coffee. I took pictures with dozens of industry leaders uploaded them to my Instagram with their contact details. You can follow me on Instagram and locate the posts. Below is a picture of Jim and I. I also invested in Jim's mastermind coaching services and now I can call him my partner. This man is amazing! Get connected to him.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

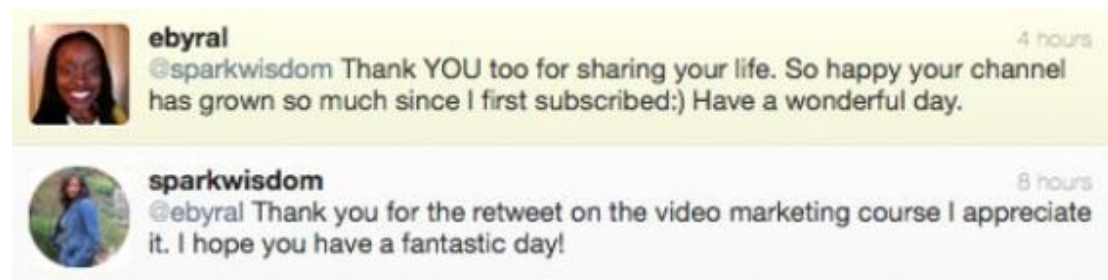

- Consider doing a book or product review, or tell about your involvement in personal development.
- Share your life experiences through video on YouTube.

CHAPTER 28: HOW TO BECOME A YOUTUBE ROCKSTAR

Everyone wants to find his or her “big break” on YouTube. My friend, YOU just might be the next big star! Yes, I have faith enough to believe that you can. If you want to make it big then don’t let anyone tear down your dream. I believe that we should think BIG, dream BIG and believe for the impossible. If you need help thinking big then read The Magic of Thinking Big by Dr. David Schwartz. I also believe that achieving the impossible takes work. You must be willing to do what others are not. You must be willing to improve your videos, communication and be willing to learn how to edit. Wherever you’re not strong consider outsourcing and doing whatever it takes to be the best.

You may also want to consider a video marketing niche. When I first began on YouTube I did a lot of natural hair videos. Many of the YouTuber’s that I began with stayed in the natural hair niche and they only created videos about natural hair. Some have more than 100,000 subscribers. I knew that this was not my ultimate goal so I did add variety to my channel. I chose the organic growth route and I’m certainly glad that I did. I’m happy with my results and I built an amazing community and brand evangelists online.

YouTube subscribers are very loyal and you’ll find that they will follow you on your other Social Media outlets like Instagram, Tumblr, Pinterest, Facebook and Twitter too.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- YOU just might be the next big star!
- Seek to improve your videos and focus on your strengths.

CHAPTER 29: HOW TO CONNECT WITH OTHER YOUTUBER CHANNEL CREATORS

Did you notice the pictures of the people in the video reel on the book cover? I'm sure that you realize by now that some of them were videos of me, yet others were videos of fellow YouTuber's. I reached out online through various social media outlets and asked fellow YouTuber's to complete a questionnaire. The results from the survey can be downloaded from the private folder I created for you:

I asked a series of questions and then asked, “What is the #1 question you have about YouTube?” Questions from the survey are below as are my answers. If you read the book in its entirety then you probably can answer the questions now too. Yet, I wanted to provide them specifically here for you as a quick reference.

- How do I get more traffic to my website from YouTube? Create videos consistently, keep your channel diverse, create “how to” videos and share your videos on your Social Media platforms.

- Please help me understand how Google monetizing my video is going to make me any money because I'm not seeing it. Before you can ever see anything from monetizing your videos you must “see” it. If you don't even believe it is possible to do than you never will.

- How do I optimize my site for more traffic? Make sure that you have a channel page that includes keywords and optimize every video that you upload with keywords in the title, about box and tags.

- How do you keep people engaged? Answer questions, ask questions and respond to comments and take time to create thoughtful videos including “how to” tutorials that viewers want to respond to.

- How can I use it [YouTube] to increase traffic to my site? Use the “external link” annotation function and include your information in the about box. Also, consider creating a compelling opt-in offer and ask viewers to visit your site at the end of your videos.

- How to create the type of videos that convert. Convert into what? Be specific. Sales, Profits, Leads?

- I'd like to know how to choose an Intro/Outro and how to get a good video quality without buying a DSLR. You can create a simple intro in PowerPoint or Keynote just using pictures or Wordle. I created my Intro using Wordle a few years ago and added music from iMovie jingles on my MacBook. Or simply outsource your intro/outro creation to Fiverr.com Just search “YouTube Intro” and select the high rating gigs.

As for the DSLR – at some point you will have to upgrade. Focus on building your community and start looking online. Lighting is extremely important. If you don’t have access to a light box use lamps and natural lighting as much as possible. My husband recently bought a Vivitar on eBay for $20 U.S. dollars and it the output is 1080p HD and it looks amazing!

- My main goal is to use it to generate traffic to my main site. My #1 question is how? Or I guess what's the one thing I can do to generate more traffic to my site using YouTube? If your main goal is to generate traffic then answer the question “why.” Why do you want to generate traffic to your main site? How do you want to serve, lead and inspire people? Do you only want to sell them? Check your motives first. You must “edutain” on YouTube it’s not a selling platform. It’s a community. Simple things you can do are add an external annotation link, create a compelling opt-in offer or give away something for free.

- How does Youtube work with my Google account? The accounts are linked and passwords are synchronized.

- How the search algorithm works so I can optimize my videos for the search results. If I knew the answer to this I’d be working at Google! It is simple to optimize the videos. Use keywords in the file name, title, about description box and tags. Run incoming link campaigns from your website by including the video on your blog or website and make sure you create quality content.

- How to get more views and subscribers on the channel. Create quality content, ask question, announce the video on your Social Media outlets and keep your videos 3-5 minutes in length. Plus you could simply just ask your viewers to subscribe.

- How can I maximize my audience reach? YouTube is not the “one stop shop.” Use your video in a blog post, upload it to Facebook, Twitter and other Social Media Platforms. Just as you would “spin” an article you can “spin” a video many different ways.

- How to use this platform to reach ideal clients. The “Video Marketing for Profits” course is ideal for this. Get signed up, it’s free.

- How to grow my channel and create dialogue with the viewers. Upload videos on a consistent basis and create quality content. Answer comments, questions and create video responses. Optimize the channel description and videos with keywords.

- For the people that make money from using YouTube (mainly people without a personal/business website) what are their secrets/tip to doing so? The “secret” is consistency, creativity and engagement. They are intentional online and giving their viewers and subscribers opportunities to do business with them by offering products, services and affiliate links. They are also providing direction to their viewers. Make it simple and if you want to provide something then make it a great offer.

- How do I get my videos to show up on the first page in my topic?

Keywords, Optimization and Engagement. Consider following trends as they occur too.

- How I can I use it to build my business?

The “Video Marketing for Profits” course is ideal for this. Get signed up, it’s free.

Special Thank you to the following YouTubers’ that completed the survey. Stop by their channels and subscribe – I’m sure they would appreciate it.

Refuse to look at a fellow YouTuber as a competitor. Instead choose to look at them as part of your YouTube community and family. Whenever I have a negative comment, troll or hater they usually come from people that never ever make videos online. They are simply there to spread their hate. A fellow YouTuber will help if you just reach out and ask. If you need help, just ask!

A fellow YouTuber will understand your struggle and they will probably remember when they first started out how difficult it was to get views and subscribers on YouTube too. There are more people on YouTube that will help you then hurt you. Remember whatever it is that you focus on or look for you will attract and find. That's not just a fact, it's a law.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- Reach out and connect with other YouTuber's.
- There are more people on YouTube that will help you then hurt you.
- There is no secret to success. Get out there and do the work. Get creative, take courses, learn from those that have the results you want and get in the game and start playing.

CHAPTER 30: THE BOTTOM LINE

There is a small website that I still have up from a video I made in 2010 about natural deodorant – Armpit Candy. I generate a few dozen sales each month and really have run the company as more of a hobby than an actual business. My main focus was Organic Life Products and in 2013 I decided to focus more time and attention on growing my passive income streams and coaching programs that include video marketing, information products and teaching part-time entrepreneurs how to create content, build traffic and convert their passion into profits. All of the businesses that I created, while continuing to work fulltime, from 2010 to present came from ideas, comments and videos I created, uploaded and published on YouTube.

You must disclose that you are placing affiliate links, being paid to promote a product, etc. The best article I have seen that best explains this is by Sara Hawkins and in the Social Media Examiner article “What Marketers Need to Know About the New FTC Disclosures.” You can access the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) disclosure online. I am just including this information for informational purposes only and it is not to be considered legal advice. Please consult an attorney or accountant for additional details.

There is some information I didn’t include in the first series of the book like thumbnail selection, thumbnail edits or microphones. We also didn’t cover what I see in every YouTube strategy book description “What is YouTube?” Unless you have been hiding under a rock you are probably very familiar with YouTube. I’ve actually found that most viewers and subscribers are just too fearful to make videos. I didn’t cover Google AdSense because in order to make money from ads you have to have videos that produce views. So many people get caught up in all of the learning that they never do anything and I don’t want that to be you.

My thumbnails aren’t perfect and I don’t take time with each and every video to add text to them. I want you to take action and go create videos. I want you to see that I never created videos cussing, shaking my behind or videos with scripts. I turned on the laptop or camera, smiled, took a deep breath and pressed record. There is a step-by-step instructional guide included in the upcoming pages yet I want you to use it as a reference ONLY. I hope that my story gives you hope that it can be your story too.

Bottom line is if you take advantage of the #1 mistake people make and integrate building an email list from the beginning, you will be much further along in your YouTube journey. Building that email list will give you an opportunity to market to your ideal client, build friendships, test out products and drive traffic back to your website. Start early and you, too, can get more views & subscribers, build traffic and make money online.

CHAPTER SUMMARY: YOUTUBE SECRETS REVEALED

- You must disclose that you are placing affiliate links, being paid to promote a product, etc.
- Build an email list and loyal following from the very beginning.
- Take a deep breath, turn on the camera and record that video.

VIDEO TOPICS

I thought long and hard about leaving you a very detailed list of topics that you could use to create amazing videos. If I provided you with 100 different topics I would be doing you more of a disservice than a service in this book format.

You see YouTube is all about creativity. It is about your creative expression and creating videos that are your personality. So what I will do is give you a few suggestions that can lead you along the way. Don't worry about what has already been done. You do it and do it better, just remember to be creative.

- * Consider creating a video response to a video that you really like watching were a tutorial
- * Find your favorite video and do your best to re-create it and add your own personality
- * Search for popular trends on Twitter or Google Trends and create a video about a popular topic
- * If you are creative and you know how to make anything homemade like lotions, food, painting, changing a tire, washing a dog or cat, making your favorite dish vegan or vegetarian, juicing... the possibilities for "how to" videos are endless.

Simply create the video and teach other people how to do it. Over time the more videos that you create you'll get more comfortable with your community and being in front of the camera. If you join one of the future 30 Day Video Challenges there are over 100 topics for you to choose from and private coaching included for you too. Find out more at 30DayVideoChallenge.com. Remember it is your channel, be creative, be confident and be consistent!
